The large excess of receipts over expenditure shown in the provisional figures for the year ending 31st March 1912 is mainly due to the fees charged in the cases of the Bank of Egypt and the Birkbeck Permanent Benefit Building Society. In the latter case there were over 80,000 members, depositors and current account holders, and over 5,000,000L. has already been distributed.

Uniformity of Company Law throughout the Empire.

Considerable progress has been made in this direction since my last Report, in which it was stated that in the Transvaal, Victoria, and British Columbia Acts had been passed following very closely the British Companies Consolidation Act of 1908. Since that Report was issued, Ordinances on the same lines have been passed by the legislatures in Barbados and Hongkong and an Ordinance has been proclaimed in Swaziland. Bills have also been introduced in India, Nova Scotia, and Southern Nigeria. At the Inter-State Conference held at Melbourne last January, a resolution was passed that it is desirable that the Companies Law of the different States should be brought as nearly as possible in accord with the Companies Law of England.

Legislation.

The Money Lenders Act, 1911, was passed last year with the object of remedying a difficulty which had arisen owing to a decision of the Courts on the interpretation of the Money Lenders Act, 1900, to the effect that the title of a bonâ fide holder of property for value was invalid if any person through whom the title was derived was a money lender and had taken an assignment of the property otherwise than in his registered name. The Act also prohibits the registration of a money lender under any name implying that he carries on the business of banking.

Changes in Official Staff.

Since the date of my last Report, the Board of Trade have appointed Mr. R. C. Heron-Maxwell to be the Comptroller of the Companies Department in the place of Mr. George Stapylton Barnes, who has been appointed Comptroller General of the Labour Department.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Board of Trade,

August 1912.

Your obedient Servant,

H. LLEWELLYN SMITH.

Progress of Registration of Companies.

The total number of companies registered in the United Kingdom in the year 1911 shows a decrease of 740 compared with the number registered in 1910, the totals being 7,184 in 1910 and 6,444 in 1911. The decrease, however, is confined to England and Wales, as the number of companies registered in Scotland remains the same, and that in Ireland has increased by 8.

The total nominal capital of companies registered in the United Kingdom in 1911 has also decreased, being 157,303,062*l.* as compared with 212,975,689*l.* in 1910, a fall of 55,672,627*l.* This is due partly to the smaller number of registrations and partly to the smaller average amount of nominal capital. This average for the United Kingdom is 24,410*l.* in 1911, a decrease of 5,235*l.* as compared with 1910, the average for each country being smaller in 1911.

A reference to the tables on page 5, in which a classification has been made in accordance with the amount of the nominal capital, will show that in nearly every class of case the number of companies registered in 1911 is smaller than the number registered in 1910.

Prospectusless Companies.

The number of companies applying to the Stock Exchange for a special settlement during 1911 shows a large decrease, being 264 as compared with 512 for 1910. The decrease is no doubt mainly due to the smaller number of rubber and oil companies floated during the year. The percentage of companies applying for a special settlement which did not issue a prospectus is slightly larger than the percentage for the previous three years.

The number of registrations in the United Kingdom for 1911 is 77, which shows a decrease of 26 on the number for 1910, and this decrease follows decreases of 22 and 19 for the two previous years.

Winding-up Orders have been made against four limited partnerships during 1911.

Companies ordered to be wound up by the Court in 1911.

The total number of companies ordered by the Court to be wound up compulsorily during the year 1911 was, as stated above, 160, of which 107 were ordered to be wound up in the High Court, and the remaining 53 in the Palatine Courts and in various County Courts. A complete list of these companies appears in Table VIII. of Annex No. XVI. attached to this Report.

The average duration of life of these companies was 5·82 years. Two companies had existed for 60 years, one for 59 years, one for 47 years, one for 38 years, and three for over 20 years, while 28 had been registered for less than one year before the date of the winding-up order.

The winding-up proceedings in 3 of the 160 companies against which winding-up orders were made have been stayed. The following list, showing the objects for which the remaining companies were formed, may be interesting:—

Particulars are given below of the results of the inquiries made by the official receivers in relation to a few of the companies ordered by the Court to be wound up.

The Birkbeck Permanent Benefit Building Society (High Court).

The Society was founded in 1851 as a permanent benefit building society to assist its members in the purchase of houses or land, and its business in this respect increased to such an extent that shortly before the winding-up there was a total of 1,053,723*l.* standing to the members' credit upon their shares. The society also, from an early date, received cash from depositors, and this part of its business rapidly grew till its dimensions far exceeded those of the ordinary business.

In 1876 the Society adopted the title of "The Birkbeck Bank"; by 1910 the amount due on deposit and current accounts was 10,784,324*l.*, and the payments in and withdrawals from the bank annually amounted to very large sums. The whole of the business was transacted at Southampton Buildings, High Holborn, and the business attained such dimensions that in the year 1900 it was considered necessary to erect new premises at a cost of over 710,000*l.* The staff employed at the time of suspension numbered 106 persons. Numbers of properties were taken possession of from time to time under the building society mortgages, and losses were at times sustained, but as a whole the business showed considerable profits. Interest was paid throughout to members and to depositors. The bulk of the funds of the Society were invested by the directors in high-class securities, and these commenced to depreciate seriously in 1899 and continued to do so until the suspension. A run took place on the bank in 1892, but the business more than doubled itself in the course of a few subsequent years. In November 1910 a second run took place, and this proved to be of a more serious nature, and was the immediate cause of the suspension. The withdrawals for the year ended 31st March 1911 by shareholders amounted to 371,397*l.*, against 283,042*l.* of the previous year, and repayments to depositors were 21,582,171*l.* against 16,187,734*l.* of the previous year, whilst the number of members and depositors were reduced during the same period from 112,817 to 105,115.

The official receiver considers that the failure is largely due to the fact that the directors of the Society did not possess sufficient experience and skill to carry on a large banking business, and that instead of availing themselves of the channels of investment usual amongst bankers, they invested the monies entrusted to them upon securities which were liable to heavy depreciation.

The liabilities of the Society at the winding-up are returned at 8,442,050*l.*, made up as follows:—

107 Preferential creditors - - - -	522
983 Trade creditors, &c. - - - -	29,575
2 Fully secured creditors - - - -	114,955
15,070 Shareholders - - - -	996,783
72,428 Depositors and current account holders -	7,300,215
Total persons - 88,590	8,442,050

and it is not expected that the assets will realise more than 7,000,000*l.*

Serious questions have arisen in the liquidation concerning the right of the Society to conduct banking business, and in consequence litigation has taken place as to the rights of the depositors and "A" and "B" shareholders, but a scheme of arrangement has been carried, under which after paying the ordinary creditors in full and setting aside sufficient to meet the claims of "B" shareholders (13,375*l.*) the "A" shareholders and depositors will share equally in the proceeds of the realisation of the assets.

Immediately after the appointment of the provisional liquidator and special manager on the 8th June last year arrangements were made by them for a loan from the Bank of England and the payment of a dividend of 10*s.* in the pound to the depositors was begun a week after their appointment. Dividends of 13*s.* 4*d.* in the pound have already been paid to the depositors and to the "A" shareholders, involving the distribution of over 5,000,000*l.*

The Second Birkbeck Permanent Benefit Building Society (commonly called The Birkbeck Freehold Land Society) (High Court).

This Society was founded in 1852, a year after the (First) Birkbeck Permanent Benefit Building Society, its object being to assist its members to purchase plots of land. Various estates were obtained by the Society from time to time, and prepared for building purposes by the making of roads, &c.; these were then divided into plots and offered for sale to the members; the sum standing to the members' credit was taken on account of the purchase money, and a charge executed in favour of the Society for the balance. The business of the Society was carried on at the premises of the (First) Birkbeck Building Society.

By the end of 1877 some 25 estates had been purchased and allotted, and the Society possessed assets valued at 185,028*l.* against liabilities 151,493*l.*, leaving a balance of 33,535*l.* in favour of the Society. Funds were also received from members who did not wish to take up allotments, and considerable profits were made from time to time. Interest has been paid throughout to the members. As in the case of the (First) Birkbeck Building Society, the funds obtained from members, other than those which were used in the purchase of the above-mentioned estates, were invested in high-class securities. Serious depreciation of this class of security commenced in 1899 and continued down to the winding-up. The run upon the (First) Birkbeck Building Society led to heavy withdrawals from this Society, and in June 1911 the Directors petitioned the Court for winding-up.

There are now practically no ordinary creditors of the Society; the claims standing before those of the members are nearly all for dividend warrants held by members at the date of the suspension and amounting to 665*l.* There are 2,103 shareholders whose claims amount to 642,108*l.*, and the assets of the Society are valued by the directors at 588,680*l.* of which 537,602*l.* is represented by Stock Exchange securities.

The Bank of Egypt, Limited (High Court).

The Bank was incorporated by Royal Charter in 1856 with a nominal capital of 250,000*l.* (with power to increase to 1,000,000*l.*) and was formed for the purpose of carrying on, under the management of a court of directors in London, the business of banking in Alexandria, with branch banks at Cairo, Suez, and elsewhere in Egypt. The chartered company was wound up in 1887 when the charter lapsed and the whole of its undertaking was transferred to a new company registered under the Joint Stock Companies Acts in February 1887 with a nominal capital of 500,000*l.* in 20,000 shares of 25*l.* each. The whole of this capital was issued to the shareholders in the chartered company in exchange for the old shares, credited with 12*l.* 10*s.* per share paid up, with a reserve liability of 12*l.* 10*s.* per share to be called up only in the event of the company going into liquidation. The capital of the Company has since been increased to 1,500,000*l.*, and further issues of capital were made in 1900, 250,000*l.* in 10,000 shares of 25*l.* each, 12*l.* 10*s.* to be paid up, at a premium of 6*l.* 10*s.* per share; in 1904 250,000*l.* at a premium of 15*l.* 10*s.* per share, and in 1908 250,000*l.* at a premium of 16*l.* 10*s.* per share, making a total issued capital of 1,250,000*l.* with 625,000*l.* called and paid up.

The greater part of the Company's business was transacted in Egypt, the Bank did very little business in London apart from the necessary work entailed by the transactions in Egypt. The Egyptian business was started at the head branch in Alexandria in July 1856, and other branches were opened, at Cairo in 1858, Port Said in 1891, and Khartoum in 1901, with agencies, from time to time, all over the country. The business in Egypt consisted of the granting of loans or credits to native landowners for the purpose of assisting them to raise their crops, making advances on cotton, keeping current accounts, discounting customers' bills and selling the bank's own acceptances for cash, or drafts on London. The rate of interest charged averaged 9 per cent. in addition to a commission on the sale of cotton. The management in Egypt took place from the head branch at Alexandria, that branch controlling and carrying on the business in that country. The Alexandrian management was in its turn subject to the control of the London board.

In 1890 Luzzatto Pacha became the manager at Alexandria and in 1898 general manager in Egypt, and from that year he had the sole control of the business in Egypt down to the date of his death in February 1909. The directors appear to have left the management and control of the business in Egypt entirely to Luzzatto Pacha and to have let him have practically a free hand. In addition to his salary of 3,000*l.* per annum and an annual honorarium, Luzzatto was paid 4 per cent. commission on the profits, which appears to have been a most unwise arrangement, as it induced him to increase the business without due regard to safety. The total remuneration paid to Luzzatto from 1890 amounted to 112,291*l.* Besides being indebted to the Bank in respect of over-drawings on his private account, Luzzatto also took advances from the Bank against cotton from his estates. At the time of his death he was indebted to the Bank in the sum of 30,572*l.*, subsequently reduced to 9,170*l.* by the sale of cotton.

The result of Luzzatto's management of the business was to place the Bank in a very serious position. Whilst he had considerably increased the business, many of the transactions he had entered into were of a risky and hazardous nature. Many of the debts were found to be bad or doubtful, and the Company's funds were locked up in what were practically permanent advances to such an extent that in order to carry on the business the Bank had to borrow by loans and bills nearly 2,000,000*l.* The directors apparently allowed this position of affairs to be brought about by failing to exercise proper control over Luzzatto and his management.

As the funds of the Bank became locked up, the business in Egypt had to be financed by the sale of the Company's acceptances against cash, or sight drafts on London. To meet these acceptances when they became due, the Bank would again sell its bills, and, therefore, for a number of years past, the Bank has been carrying on business entirely on credit. If this credit had been affected, thereby causing the refusal of its paper in the market, at any time within the past few years, the suspension of the Bank must have followed. In 1890, when the debtors' accounts amounted to 515,000*l.*, the bills payable were 191,000*l.*, whilst in 1910, when the debtors' accounts had increased to 2,505,000*l.*, the bills payable stood at 1,753,000*l.*

Under Luzzatto's management the business of the Bank in Egypt increased rapidly and the net profits shown in the annual accounts as available for distribution increased from 22,122*l.* in 1890 to 30,000*l.* in 1895, to 43,523*l.* in 1900, and to 136,864*l.* in 1905. The profits for 1910 were shown at 83,135*l.* The dividends and bonuses paid correspondingly increased from 9 per cent. in 1895 to 12 per cent. in 1900, and during the years 1903 to 1907 amounted to 14 per cent., 16 per cent., 18 per cent., and 18 per cent. respectively. During the last three years of the Company's existence dividends and bonuses at the rate of 17 per cent., 15 per cent., and 14 per cent. per annum were paid, whilst only two months prior to the Bank's suspension, an interim dividend of 4 per cent. was distributed.

A reserve fund published in the annual accounts was built up out of the profits and premiums on the issue of new shares. In 1909 this reserve fund stood at 660,000*l.* A sum equal to this amount was invested in first-class bearer securities and deposited with the Company's bankers, and, as money was required for the business, advances were obtained on the security of these investments. In 1911 the reserve fund was reduced to 460,000*l.* by the transfer of 200,000*l.* to meet bad and doubtful debts. Inner reserves (not disclosed in the annual accounts) were created and amounted to 258,000*l.* in 1909. The whole of this sum, with other amounts added thereto, was written off in respect of bad debts. The bad debts actually written off amounted to—in Egypt, since 1901, 105,799*l.*; in London, in 1909 and 1910, 340,447*l.*—a total of 446,246*l.*, but there was still a further sum of 374,142*l.* reported as bad and doubtful debts left over to be dealt with.

No independent audit of the accounts in Egypt took place, although the auditors in England considered that such an audit was advisable, and so informed the directors. In October 1907 a chartered accountant was sent to Egypt to make an investigation of the books and debtors' accounts, but as his instructions limited his investigations he did not make a full audit. His report, however, appears to have impressed the directors, and they wrote to Luzzatto, pointing out the necessity of altering the mode of conducting the business in Egypt and intimating that they proposed to retire him at the end of the year.

Notwithstanding the position of the Company's finances, the directors made an issue of 10,000 shares in April 1908 at a premium of 1*l.* 10*s.* (12*l.* 10*s.* to be paid up), or 29*l.* per share, receiving by way of premiums 165,000*l.* It appears from the correspondence that as the Bank was greatly in need of funds to meet its coming engagements, the proceeds of the issue was applied principally in meeting the liabilities of the Bank rather than in extending its business, which was the stated object of the issue.

A new director joined the board in 1908, and in a memorandum prepared by him and submitted to his co-directors he pointed out the critical position in which the Bank stood financially. The secretary was sent out to Egypt in 1908, 1909, and again in 1911 to reorganise the business and look into the debtors' accounts, and as the result of his visits large sums were written off, as previously stated, in respect of bad and doubtful debts. In the annual accounts for 1910 the debtors' accounts were returned at 2,505,000*l.* (nearly two-thirds of the total assets of over 4,000,000*l.*), and a considerable portion of this sum is now considered irrecoverable.

No disclosure of any of the reports on the Egyptian business or of the serious financial position was made to the shareholders at the annual meetings or otherwise, and the high rate of dividends and bonuses continued to be paid. In 1911, concurrently with negotiations for amalgamation with another financial institution, the bill brokers in Egypt commenced to refuse to take the Bank's acceptances, and as the negotiations for amalgamation and financial assistance were unsuccessful, the Bank had to suspend payment and a petition for winding up was presented.

In the opinion of the official receiver, the failure of the Bank is the result of Luzzatto's management of the business in Egypt, and the directors appear to have contributed to this result by allowing their general manager to have practically a free hand and by neglecting to exercise proper supervision in Egypt and in London over his management. The financing of the Bank by means of the three months' bills when its funds became locked up was reprehensible, as failure to sell its acceptances would have caused its suspension at any time within the past few years. Having regard to the serious financial position in which the Bank stood, there was no justification for the high rate of dividends and bonuses paid during recent years, which misled the shareholders and the public as to the true financial position, which was withheld from them. The audit appears to have afforded no protection to the shareholders.

The statement of affairs submitted by the directors discloses gross liabilities 2,237,104*l.*, and estimated total assets, after payment of a secured creditor, of 2,708,587*l.* It is now apparent that this estimate cannot be realised, and although sufficient may be recovered from the assets to meet the liabilities to creditors, it is highly probable that the shareholders will lose the whole of the capital already paid by them (625,000*l.*), in addition to having to meet a considerable portion, if not the whole, of the uncalled capital, amounting to 625,000*l.* It is, however, hoped that part of the capital called up in the liquidation may eventually be returned to the shareholders.

Insurance Companies.

The National Provincial Insurance Corporation, Limited (High Court).— Formed in December 1904 to effect all kinds of insurances other than life and plate-glass. The nominal capital was 2,000*l.*, but as 1,843*l.* of this was issued as fully paid to the promoters, the cash capital actually available was 157*l.* only, with which a small business was done in sickness and other insurance during the years 1905 and 1906. The Company was on the point of giving up business in 1907, when the control of it was acquired by one Frederick England, who immediately proceeded to establish it on a larger basis, the capital being increased to 50,000*l.*, and afterwards to 250,000*l.* The net premium income received during 1908 was 4,700*l.*, but during the following year the business considerably increased and the net premium income was raised to 34,000*l.* The revenue account for the year showed a credit balance of 11,399*l.*, upon the strength of which, although warned by the auditors, a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. was recommended by the directors and paid. No provision was made for unexpired risks, and it transpired afterwards that the dividend was unearned. The revenue account for the year 1910 showed a further considerable increase in the net premium income, which amounted to 207,548*l.* Of the gross premium income of 230,285*l.*, about 74 per cent., or 170,500*l.*, was derived from reinsurance premiums receivable by the Company under reinsurance contracts effected with the Empire Guarantee and Insurance Company, Limited, and the Reinsurance and Guarantee Corporation, Limited, referred to below. The premium income, therefore, from general sources was about 60,000*l.*; the claims paid and outstanding on the year amounted to 52,990*l.* Of the 95,540*l.* standing to the credit of the revenue account for 1910, 83,019*l.* was set aside as a reserve for unexpired risks, this being equivalent to 40 per cent. of the net premium income for the year, a proportion which the auditors were of opinion, as expressed to the directors, was insufficient.

The Company originally did a general insurance business, but in order to bolster up its finance it afterwards entered into reinsurance contracts with other insurance companies, regarding which inquiry is proceeding. The Company appears to have recklessly undertaken risks of a heavy nature and made no adequate provision to meet its obligations. As a result, liabilities are shown to have been incurred amounting to 55,647*l.*, of which 13,876*l.* are stated to be fully secured. Claims have been lodged or intimated largely exceeding the stated liabilities, while the assets are to a large extent of doubtful value. The official receiver states that it may be possible eventually to make some payment to the unsecured creditors, but that this is dependent upon the result of the realisation of the securities in the hands of the secured creditors (the Company's bankers), to whom the Company pledged its assets, including its unpaid and uncalled capital.

*The Reinsurance and Guarantee Corporation, Limited (High Court).—*The principal object of this Company was to furnish guarantees of the solvency of another insurance company called the Law Car and General Insurance Corporation, Limited (referred to on page 7 of the Report for 1910). The same person acted as managing director of both companies and had agreements with them by which his remuneration was partly by way of a commission upon all business undertaken. He obtained a considerable amount of insurances for the Law Car Company on the condition that its solvency was guaranteed. He originally obtained these guarantees from members of Lloyd's, but upon that arrangement coming to an end he formed the Reinsurance and Guarantee Corporation to give the guarantees. He entered into insurances on marine risks for very large amounts, and owing to the rate of premium he accepted being inadequate, the Law Car Company got into serious financial difficulties. He, nevertheless, continued, as managing director of the Reinsurance Corporation, to give guarantees of the Law Car Company's solvency, with the result that he obtained the commission to which he was entitled from both companies. He ceased to be managing director of both companies in August 1910.

In November 1910 an arrangement was entered into with the National Provincial Insurance Corporation, Limited (see page 11 of this Report), by which that company acquired from the shareholders of the Reinsurance Company the bulk of the shares that had been issued. The original directors of the Reinsurance Company resigned and nominees of the National Provincial Company took their places. The National Provincial Company was in financial difficulties at the date it acquired the shares and had a considerable overdraft at its bankers. The Reinsurance Company, however, had assets consisting of investments in first-class securities to the amount of 15,000*l.*

The shares which the National Provincial Company had purchased from shareholders were 11 shares upon which 5*s.* had been paid, and in order to get rid of the liability of 15*s.* per share, a cheque for upwards of 12,700*l.* was handed to the new directors of the Reinsurance Company, who accepted the cheque in discharge of the liability. Resolutions were also passed for the sale of the securities and for the reinsurance of all the risks, except solvency risks, with the National Provincial Company for a premium of 47,500*l.* A cheque for 26,800*l.* on account of the premium was handed to the National Provincial Company and a charge on the Company's assets given as security for the balance. The net result of the arrangement has been that the National Provincial Company obtained all the assets of the Reinsurance Company, while leaving that Company primarily liable to its policy holders, who have lost the security of the uncalled capital by reason of the exchange of cheques purporting to make the shares held by the National Provincial Company fully paid up.

The Lancashire Plate Glass, Fire, and Burglary Insurance Company, Limited (High Court).—Registered in 1903 with a nominal capital of 5,000*l.* to carry on all kinds of insurance business other than life assurance; its issued capital was at no time greater than 2,000*l.*, and more than half of this had been lost as the result of six years' trading. In 1909 practically the whole of its issued capital was acquired by the National Provincial Insurance Corporation, Limited, which Company took over the control of the Lancashire Company, and thereafter the business was conducted in conjunction with that of the National Provincial Company. Regardless of its trifling capital, the Company undertook various kinds of insurance and reinsurance risks, and although its policies, other than those of reinsurance, are stated to have been guaranteed by the National Provincial Company, there does not appear to have been any real security for its policy holders. The liabilities of the Company are estimated at 286*l.*, and the assets, consisting almost entirely of balances due from agents, at 475*l.*

Money Societies.

The Great Bridge Permanent Money Society (West Bromwich).—The Society was registered in March 1891 under the Friendly Societies Act, 1875, with the object of creating funds by weekly subscriptions, to be lent to or invested for the benefit of members of the Society. The shares were 10*l.* each, and no member was entitled to hold any interest in the funds exceeding 200*l.* No investments were made, and the subscriptions were lent out to members on the security of promissory notes, each of which was signed by the borrower and one or more friends as surety. The rules provided that there should be a senior and junior auditor. There is, however, no record of any election of auditors, but the annual returns were signed by two members as having been duly audited by them. The annual returns to the Registrar of Friendly Societies had only been lodged up to December 1909; they were altogether illusory, and would never have passed an efficient audit. Instead of there being a profit as shown in the returns, it was apparent that any profit made was more than absorbed by the working expenses. No allowance was made for bad and doubtful debts; although many of the loans were made years ago and were hopelessly bad, they were treated year by year as good assets. Debts amounting to 1,499*l.* are now written down to 15*l.* The Society had been insolvent for many years. The liabilities amount to 2,001*l.*, and the assets are estimated by the secretary at 360*l.*, but the official receiver does not think they are likely to realise anything like that amount.

Borough Permanent Money Society (West Bromwich).—Registered in July 1892 under the Friendly Societies Act, 1875, with similar objects to those of the Great Bridge Permanent Money Society. The books of the Society were kept fairly well, but the assets and liabilities have been dealt with on a wrong basis in the last two or three annual returns made to the Registrar of Friendly Societies. Practically no allowance has at any time been made for bad and doubtful debts, although some of the loans to members were made many years ago and the repayments were long in arrear. Debts amounting to 1,807*l.* are now written down to 101*l.* The failure of the Society is attributed by the Secretary to inability to get in loans owing to bad trade in the district, but it is also due to the fact that loans were made to irresponsible persons and that a proper valuation of the Society's assets was not made periodically.

The Dudley Permanent Money Society (Dudley).—This Society was registered under the Friendly Societies Act in 1894. Its objects were to create funds by weekly subscriptions to be lent out to members upon promissory notes. The members were divided into (a) investing members and (b) borrowing members. Whenever the contributions, dividends, and bonuses of an investing member amounted to the sum subscribed for the amount was to be paid to him and on such payment his membership ceased. For some time the Society had not sufficient funds in hand to pay shares maturing, and at the date of the winding-up order there was 1,570*l.* 5*s.* 8*d.* due on such matured shares. In June 1911 a resolution was passed by the members that the rules should be amended with the view of adopting a scheme proposed by the solicitor to the Society for the realisation and distribution of the assets, but the proposed scheme could not be carried out. The assets are estimated at 1,266*l.* and the liabilities at 2,495*l.*, of which 38*l.* only is due to preferential and unsecured creditors, the remainder being in respect of amounts due to members of the Society.

Miscellaneous Companies.

Staffordshire Financial Corporation, Limited (High Court).—Formed in 1864 to carry on business as money-lenders at Walsall. The Company was promoted by a solicitor and the greater portion of the capital was taken up by his firm, the members of which controlled the Company as directors from the first. The paid up capital at the winding-up was 20,000*l.*, at which figure it stood almost from the formation of the Company. The business was, however, carried on mainly by means of cash received on deposit, at interest varying from 3 to 4½ per cent. per annum. The deposits, which stood at 7,953*l.* in 1866, increased from year to year, and in 1910 amounted to 108,447*l.* A large money-lending business was done at interest, which sometimes reached 25 per cent. per annum. The Company's funds were also employed in financing two colliery companies. One of these was very successful down to 1908, but began to lose money in 1909, and finally the whole amount invested in it (9,146*l.*) was lost. The other colliery referred to was financed by the Company to the extent of 61,537*l.* between 1902 and 1910, and at the winding up the amount due for principal and interest in respect of this investment was 76,026*l.*, nearly the whole of which has been lost. Shortly prior to the winding-up heavy withdrawals were made by depositors, and these, with the loss of the large sums invested in collieries, brought about the downfall of the Company. The amount due to unsecured creditors at the winding-up was 101,844*l.*, and the assets available to meet this sum are valued at 66,066*l.*—a deficiency of 35,778*l.* The uncalled capital amounts to 30,000*l.*, but the calls are not expected to realise more than 12,114*l.*

Pure Jamaica, Limited (High Court).—The Company was incorporated in April 1907 to take over contracts entered into by the promoters with planters in Jamaica for the purchase of rum. The nominal capital of 150,000*l.* was divided into 149,950 ordinary shares of 1*l.* each and 1,000 deferred shares of 1*s.* each, which were entitled to one-half of the profits after the ordinary shares had received a dividend of 10 per cent. The deferred shares were all subscribed and paid for by the directors and by the principal promoter, and 50,235 ordinary shares were allotted to the public. Down to the 31st of July 1908, the date at which, under the articles of association, the first accounts were to be made up, the Company had purchased 4,924 puncheons of rum, and had disposed of the whole of it, excepting 943 puncheons, at prices ranging from 2s. 9d. to 3s. 2½d. per gallon. The unsold rum had been unfavourably reported upon by the Company's brokers, and had been unsuccessfully offered to the dealers on the market.

At the end of the financial year the Company contracted to sell the whole of its unsold stock at 3s. 6d. per gallon to a purchaser who had no means to pay for it until he had sold it, and had no special facilities for selling it. The purchaser paid a deposit of only 500l. (part of which was contributed by one of the directors) on a total purchase price of 17,790l., and was allowed five months in which to pay the remainder. The Company was thus enabled to pay a dividend of 16 per cent. on its ordinary shares and of 3,000 per cent. on the deferred shares. The directors, in announcing payment of this dividend, invited the shareholders to apply for further shares, and informed them that 70,235 shares had been guaranteed. In fact, the general manager, who was, apart from his salary, without means, had guaranteed the underwriting of 70,235 shares. Only 60,235 were underwritten (almost entirely by the directors themselves), but the general manager was not called upon to make up the difference. The purchaser of the rum failed to pay the purchase money, and, in September 1909, the directors registered "Jamaica Rum, Limited," with a nominal capital of 25,000l., to purchase the rum and sell it by retail. The rum was put up for sale at public auction, and was knocked down to representatives of Jamaica Rum, Limited, at a price far in excess of the market price of the day. The directors of Pure Jamaica then induced a bank to lend a sum of 13,000l. to the new company on the security of the rum, the uncalled capital of the new company (Pure Jamaica having subscribed for 10,000 shares and the directors for 250 shares each), and the guarantee of Pure Jamaica, Limited. The bank was not informed of the history of the rum.

Early in 1910 the directors of Pure Jamaica released the general manager from his guarantee agreement and forfeited a large number of the shares for which they themselves had applied, re-allotting, in some cases, a less number of shares as fully paid, the sums paid on the forfeited shares being appropriated to make the re-allotted shares fully paid. The large increase in the spirit duties imposed by the budget of 1909 rendered it impossible to sell even sound rum at a profit, having regard to the prices which the Company had agreed to pay the planters. Heavy obligations were incurred in order to pay the planters, and the fall in prices in England eventually rendered it impossible to pay off the loans, whilst the rum charged to the bank was realised at a ruinous figure. Debentures were issued, but the interest could not be paid, and in September 1910 a receiver was appointed. An attempt was made to arrange better terms with the planters, but was unsuccessful, and a winding-up order was made in January 1911.

Hudd and Collier, Limited (High Court).—Formed in February 1901 to take over an old-established leather business. The nominal capital was 25,000l. in 1,500 preference and 1,000 ordinary shares of 10l. each. The business with all its assets and liabilities was transferred to the Company for 9,195l., satisfied by the issue to the vendors of 400 preference and 450 ordinary shares and the payment of 695l. in cash. Among the liabilities taken over was a bank overdraft of 1,831l. This debt was increased by the Company from year to year until on the 30th of November 1907 it stood at 4,577l. At this time the only security held by the bank was the personal guarantee of two directors to the extent of 2,000l. each. In February 1908 one director was released from his guarantee on the understanding that other security should be given. In order to provide the security required, goods were purchased on credit and placed in a warehouse, the warehouseman's warrants being lodged with the bank. The value of the goods from time to time pledged to the bank was about equal to the amount of the overdraft, which by the 30th November 1909 had been increased to 6,290l. By the end of 1910, when the Company went into liquidation, the overdraft had been further increased by over 5,000l., viz., to 11,440l. The security represented goods held in pledge which had cost 11,765l. During the last year of the Company's existence it traded at a loss, goods costing 56,443l. having been sold for 47,261l. At the winding-up the goods pledged to the bank (11,765l.) were estimated to produce only 7,905l. The free assets available for unsecured creditors are valued at 3,708*l.*, whereas their total claims amount to 29,791*l.*, of which 21,259*l.* is due to trade creditors whose claims are largely in respect of goods bought on credit and pledged as above mentioned. The loss to creditors is estimated at 26,083*l.*

The Brixton Skating Rink, Limited (High Court).—This Company was formed in March 1909 to erect and carry on a rolling skating rink in Brixton. It bought for 3,200*l.* the benefit of an agreement for a lease of certain land and a scheme for constructing and conducting a rink. The vendor and promoter undertook to pay the cost of building and equipping the rink in excess of 3,500*l.* A prospectus was issued and 6,500 l. shares were applied for. It was stated that the building would cover half of the site and was estimated to cost about 4,000*l.* The promoter, however, who was also a director of the Company, had plans prepared for a building covering all the site, and gave instructions to the builders to proceed with the large building. Two of the directors objected to this course and the work was stopped, but the promoter took advantage of their temporary absence from London and obtained their removal from the board. He and the remaining director then proceeded with the large building, the result being to release the promoter from his liability to pay a portion of the cost of the small one. In November 1909 a further prospectus was issued offering 2,000 shares for subscription at 30*s.*, i.e., a premium of 10*s.* per share. The objects of the issue were said to be to double the accommodation, erect an electric theatre, and acquire the freehold which the Company had an option to purchase for 7,500*l.* No steps were taken to carry out any of these objects, and the issue, even if fully subscribed, would not have been sufficient for them. Subscribers were also told that they would participate in a dividend of 5 per cent. which had just been declared. Nothing was, however, paid to them. No mention was made in the prospectus that at the time of this issue proceedings were pending against the Company by adjoining owners for an injunction to restrain the carrying on of the rink. Three actions brought against the Company on these grounds resulted in the Company having to buy two houses at a cost of 1,050*l.* and to pay over 1,000*l.* for the costs of the proceedings.

The Sherbro Trading Syndicate, Limited (High Court).—This Company was formed to acquire the rights in certain concessions in the colony of Sierre Leone for the price of 18,000*l.* payable in shares. The vendor and promoter had acquired the rights in the concession from the original holder in consideration of undertaking to form a syndicate which was to send out an expedition to test and survey the property, it being agreed that the original concessionaire should receive three-fourths of the purchase price payable by any company formed to exploit the concession. An expedition, which included representatives of two well-known engineering firms, went out to the West Coast, and after spending some weeks in the country the engineers reported unfavourably upon the prospects of the successful working of the concession. The report stated that “whilst there are iron deposits, the concessions are of very doubtful validity. The cost of working and transporting the ore would considerably exceed its selling value. Under these circumstances we cannot recommend your syndicate to incur any further expenditure in connection with these proposals.” Notwithstanding this report, the promoter of the syndicate, who carried on business as an outside stockbroker, circularised many people, pressing them to purchase debentures and shares of the syndicate on the representation that the concession was valuable, that in addition the syndicate owned a coal mine in North Wales with a coal reserve of 20,000,000 tons, and had a controlling interest in a copper company in New Mexico.

All these statements were untrue, but many shares were sold to members of the public after the date of the engineer’s unfavourable report at 12*l.* 10*s.* per l. share. The shares so sold were the property of the promoter, having been issued to him in payment of the purchase price of the concession.

The syndicate did not own a coal mine in North Wales or elsewhere, but a company was formed by the promoter in connection with a small mining property. The Sherbro Syndicate, however, never completed the purchase or became entitled to any interest whatever in the property. It would appear from the books that some shares were acquired in a copper company in America, but they were few in number in comparison to the total issue of the copper company’s capital.

English McKenna Process Company, Limited (High Court).—This Company is interesting because of the method by which its promoters arranged for the subscription of the capital and at the same time retained complete control of the Company. The Company was promoted by a group of American financiers represented by E. H. Abbot, senr., of Boston, United States of America. By the articles of association E. H. Abbot, junr., H. L. Burrage, and Howard Morris, all of Boston, were appointed "trustees of the Company" with power to nominate four co-trustees. Their remuneration was $1,000 per annum each, and a sum not exceeding $5,000 per annum for expenses. This was increased in 1908 to $20,000 per annum. According to the articles their duties were:—

"To act for the Company for any purpose for which it is deemed advisable to have the intervention of trustees, and in particular the whole or any part of the property and rights of the Company may be vested in the trustees either for the benefit of the Company or its members."

The original articles did not confer upon the trustees any powers of control of the directors, but such powers appear to have been exercised freely throughout the Company's existence. In July 1908 the Company at an extraordinary general meeting adopted new articles of association, the principal effect of which was to strengthen the control of the directors by the trustees. There was an office in Boston maintained by the Company and also a local treasurer. There were three directors in England whose remuneration was 2,700*l.* per annum.

No prospectus was issued, and no application was made to the public for subscriptions, but the capital was fully subscribed. The seven signatories and three other persons having each subscribed for one preference share, an application was signed by E. H. Abbot, junr., "for himself, H. L. Burrage, and Howard Morris," for the remaining 9,990 preference shares of 20*l.* each (199,800*l.*). They paid with the application $13,602.50, and undertook to pay the balance as and when called upon, within certain limits defined by the application. They stipulated that the 7 per cent. cumulative preference dividend should be credited on each instalment, and that the payments should be made into the Eliot National Bank, Boston (of which Burrage is the president), which was to receive from the Company share certificates to be held in escrow, and handed to the trustees in exchange for each payment. The shares were allotted on those terms. The trustees endeavoured to place the shares in America, by issuing to subscribers there "trustees' certificates," which were not share certificates issued by the Company, but acknowledgments by the trustees that they would account to the subscriber for the dividends on shares in proportion to the amount of his subscription and also for any surplus assets in a winding-up. For this purpose they issued in America a document in the nature of a prospectus, which did not comply with English statutory requirements. They also gave, as bonus, trustees' certificates covering seven founders' shares for every 10 preference shares subscribed for. The founders' shares were originally allotted to the vendors, the Foreign McKenna Process Company, but that company appears also to have been under the control of the trustees. Beyond the fact that one director in England subscribed 3,300*l.* on trustees' certificates the official receiver was not able to ascertain the extent to which the trustees' appeal for subscriptions was successful, but even if the whole issue had been subscribed in America the trustees would still remain the registered shareholders, and, except in the case referred to, the Company had no official knowledge that any persons other than the trustees were interested as shareholders. Payments on account of subscriptions on shares were from time to time made by the trustees into the bank at Boston, and thence remitted to this country (after deductions for trustees' remuneration and expenses). When the amount paid up on the shares held by the trustees amounted to $543,000 E. H. Abbot, senr., the promoter of the Company (who had acquired, before the formation of the Company, about 24 acres of freehold land at Seacombe, on the Mersey, on which the works were subsequently built, and which was leased to the Company at a rental of $17,500 per annum with an option to purchase outright for $250,000 before 1st August 1908), became a trustee, and by agreement dated 1st October 1904 agreed to allow the Company to exercise its option of purchase of the land at $250,000 (51,203*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* sterling) in consideration of the Company setting off that liability against the same amount due by the trustees on shares; and in addition a covenant by the trustees and the Company to pay to him a bonus of $200,000 out of surplus earnings after payment of 7 per cent. on preference and 20 per cent. on founders' shares. Nothing was ever paid on account of this bonus. This arrangement made the shares paid up to the extent of $793,000, and the balance of $206,000 was paid early in 1905.

FOR THE YEAR ENDING 31ST DECEMBER 1911.

Criminal Proceedings.

Anglo-Spanish Copper Company, Limited (High Court).—The chairman and secretary of this Company were charged with offences under Section 81 of the Larceny Act, 1861, in July 1911. The jury disagreed and the case was retried in November 1911. The chairman was convicted and sentenced to 12 months' imprisonment and the secretary to eight months' imprisonment, both in the second division.

Measures Brothers, Limited (High Court).—Proceedings were instituted against the managing director in March 1911 on a charge of publishing false balance sheets of the Company. After a trial lasting 11 days he was convicted on the 2nd November 1911 and sentenced to seven months' imprisonment in the second division.

Annex No. XVIII.—Report by the Solicitor to the Board of Trade.

The legal proceedings conducted by me on behalf of the Board of Trade and official receivers during the year 1911 in connection with the Companies Acts fall within the following classes, viz. :—

- (1) General proceedings in connection with companies in liquidation.
- (2) Proceedings against defaulting liquidators.
- (3) Cases relating to defaulting receivers.
- (4) Proceedings relating to companies not in liquidation.

(1) General Proceedings.

Questions of some difficulty and of not a little importance arose in connection with two companies which, after having been registered in Guernsey, were ordered to be wound-up both by the proper Court of that Island and by the High Court in England. The winding-up orders in Guernsey having been made before the liquidation proceedings in England were commenced, the companies' books and papers were taken possession of by the liquidator in Guernsey, who declined to recognise that the official receiver had any right either to the custody of the books and papers or even to inspection thereof, and the questions which arose were as to the best course to be adopted to enforce the recognition of his rights.

In support of the petitions for winding-up orders in the English Court, affidavits were filed containing various allegations as to the object of registering the companies and winding them up in Guernsey. The Board of Trade considered that whether or not these allegations should prove on further investigation to be well founded, it was of importance on general principles that as the companies had carried on business in England there should be a proper investigation of their affairs in this country; and being advised that the Guernsey Court would probably render the official receiver assistance, the Department authorised me to take the necessary steps to apply to the Guernsey Court on his behalf for an order directing its liquidator to afford the official receiver reasonable access to the books.

An application was accordingly made on his behalf to the Royal Court of Guernsey for an order directing the liquidator to deliver up the books, &c., to the official receiver, or to give him inspection thereof, and after considerable opposition by the liquidator an order was made under which the official receiver obtained temporary possession of the books and papers with liberty to take copies.

In the case of a company which was being wound up under an order of the High Court, certain persons who had been publicly examined upon the report of the official receiver, which stated that in his opinion they and others had committed fraud in connection with the formation of the company and in the conduct of its business, applied for an order that their costs of the examination should be paid out of the company's assets, upon the ground that they were exculpated from the charges made against them in the official receiver's report.

The public examination had been followed by certain misfeasance proceedings brought against the applicants by the official receiver as liquidator, which were dismissed; and on the strength of this the applicants asked the Court to order payment of their costs of the examination out of the company's assets without (as the Court held) any evidence to prove that the charges of misfeasance covered the whole of these made by the official receiver in his report.

The learned Judge declined to hold that it had been established that the parties were exonerated from all the charges made against them, and the application was accordingly dismissed.

It is, perhaps, worthy of observation here that it has recently been held by the Court of Appeal that the duties of the official receiver in connection with a public examination under the Act cease when the examination has taken place, and that he can only appear to contest an application such as that now under notice if he is prepared to accept the character of a litigant. Accordingly, counsel for the official receiver in the present case confined himself to seeing that all the material facts were before the Court.

Application was made to the Court to stay the proceedings under a winding-up order in the case of a company in which substantially the whole of the shares were held by the applicant (who was also a creditor) and members of his family. The nominal capital of the company was 30,000*l.* and the position at the date of the winding-up order was that the whole of the company's assets had been realised by debenture holders, to whom a balance of over 9,000*l.* remained owing after giving credit for the proceeds of sale, and there were also liabilities amounting to 5,600*l.* to unsecured creditors.

The applicant's proposal was that he should pay to the official receiver by certain fixed instalments a sum sufficient to pay the debts of the unsecured creditors in full (certain family creditors being excluded) and that in addition he would satisfy the claims of the debenture holders.

The proposal offered obvious advantages to the debenture holders and to the non-family creditors; and as the official receiver had made his preliminary report to the Court under Section 8 of the Companies (Winding-up) Act, 1890, stating that he was unaware of any matters relating to the promotion of the company or the conduct of its business, as to which further enquiry was desirable, it was intimated to the Court, on his behalf, that if the proposed arrangement for the payment of the company's liabilities were carried out there appeared to be no objection to the Court acceding to the motion. Unfortunately, however, the applicant was unable to carry out the arrangement proposed; and after the case had been before the Court a number of times the Court had ultimately to dispose of the matter by making no order on the motion.

Another case in which an application was made for a stay of proceedings involved somewhat different considerations. As in the previous case, the official receiver saw no reason for making or suggesting any charge of fraud against the persons concerned in the promotion or formation of the company or the conduct of its business; but it was considered that the circumstances under which it was proposed that the company should resume business left room for criticism. At the date of the application the company was possessed of no assets by means of which the debts due to its creditors could be paid; but a person (who, it was stated, was fully aware of the winding-up order) came forward with an offer to subscribe for a number of shares sufficient to pay the claims of the creditors. On behalf of the official receiver it was pointed out that the effect of that transaction would be that, although the company would thus rid itself of its liabilities to the existing creditors, it would be left without any assets towards meeting any new liabilities which it might incur. The Court has laid down the rule in previous cases, both with respect to the bankruptcy of individuals and to insolvent companies, that it will have regard to the position of future creditors before removing the restraint of an order of adjudication or winding-up order, and will require to be satisfied that the individual or company is in a reasonable position to carry on business before allowing him or it to do so.

The Court, however, considered that the fact that there was no allegation of fraud in this case enabled it to distinguish the cases cited, and made an order staying the proceedings on the usual terms.

In the liquidation of a company, which, although primarily a building society, had also carried on an extensive business as a bank, application was made to the Court by the official receiver as provisional liquidator of the company for leave to borrow upon the security of the company's assets, a sufficient sum to enable an immediate payment of 10*s.* in the £ to be made to all persons whose claims arose out of its banking transactions, both upon current and deposit accounts. The application was granted, and relief was thus afforded to a number of persons of small means, who would otherwise have suffered heavily by their inability to draw upon the money which they had entrusted to the company.

The Court has frequently held in bankruptcy that dividends in respect of proofs which have been admitted can only be paid to the creditor who has proved, and that if any claim to the dividend is made by any other person it is necessary for him to file a proof in substitution for that of the original creditor before he is entitled to claim payment of the dividend. As has been pointed out in connection with bankruptcy matters, it is manifest that in the absence of such a rule, a trustee or liquidator would be saddled with the onerous duty of coming to a decision upon the merits of a large variety of claims, which might involve the estate in the expense of costly litigation.

A case arose in the High Court in which the official receiver was served with a summons at the instance of a judgment creditor of two persons who had been admitted to rank as creditors of a company in course of winding-up, for the appointment of a receiver of the dividends payable upon their proof. On behalf of the official receiver the attention of the Court was called to the cases in which it had been held that such an application ought not to be entertained, and in the result the summons was dismissed.

The remaining cases related to applications for the transfer of proceedings under the respective winding-up orders, but as no elements of special interest were present it is considered unnecessary to refer to them in detail.

In each case the application was granted.

(2) Proceedings against Defaulting Liquidators.

In 317 cases I was instructed to take proceedings against liquidators of companies in process of voluntary liquidation for the purpose of recovering penalties incurred by them in consequence of their failure to send to the Registrar of Companies the statutory statements as to the proceedings in and position of the liquidation. In most of these cases the liquidators were induced to file the documents required as a result of my correspondence with them. In eight cases, however, summonses were issued, in four of which fines were inflicted; the remaining cases being withdrawn owing to the difficulty of finding the liquidators.

In three cases proceedings were taken to compel liquidators to pay undistributed funds in their hands into the Companies' Liquidation Account. In each case the money was obtained or accounted for to the satisfaction of the Board of Trade.

(3) Cases relating to Receivers who failed to file Abstracts of their Receipts and Payments.

The Department referred 199 cases to me in which receivers had made default in filing with the Registrar abstracts of their receipts and payments. It is satisfactory to report, however, that in only one case was it found necessary to issue a summons; in that case it was found impracticable to serve the summons and the matter had to be abandoned.

(4) Proceedings relating to companies not in liquidation for defaults in rendering returns, &c., under the Companies' Acts, 1862 to 1907, and the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908.

During the year ending 31st December 1911, I had referred to me 988 companies for action in respect of default in the year 1910, and in some of the cases the years 1908 and 1909 as well, in rendering the various returns and notices required by the Companies' Acts; but in 20 cases only was it necessary to institute proceedings for penalties. In these 20 cases, however, 76 informations were laid and summonses issued.

The following convictions were obtained:—

- (I.) Seven for offences against Section 26 of the Companies' Act, 1862 (as amended by the Acts of 1900 and 1907), for failure to render the 1908 return (Form E.), i.e., copy list of members with summary as to capital and shares, &c.;
- (II.) Forty for similar offences against Section 26 of the Companies' (Consolidation) Act, 1908, in respect of returns for the years 1909, 1910 and 1911. Before a conviction was obtained in one of these cases a special case had to be stated for the opinion of the Divisional Court on the dismissal of a summons by the Stipendary Magistrate at Manchester, the point of law being whether the Registrar of Companies was right in contending that he could require companies (not being private companies) to state separately the value of their "goodwill" as a fixed asset in the balance sheet which has to be included in their annual returns under subsection 3 of the section. The Divisional Court decided in favour of the Registrar's contention, and remitted the case to the Magistrate, who convicted;

- (III.) Eight for offences against Section 64 of the Consolidation Act, i.e., failure to hold the ordinary general meeting during the calendar year 1910; and
- (IV.) One for default under Section 75 of the Consolidation Act, i.e., failure to notify the Registrar of Companies of change in the directorate of a company.

Of the 20 charges upon which no convictions were obtained, 16 were withdrawn, 14 upon convictions being obtained on other charges and two on payment of costs, and four were dismissed. The reasons for the four dismissals are as follows:—

- (a) Two because the defendant's solicitor was able to satisfy the Court that his client had been recorded as a director without his knowledge and had never acted as such and was not aware of the defaults.
- (b) Two because charges were preferred under Section 26 of the Consolidation Act for default in rendering proper returns (Forms E.) for the calendar years 1909, 1910, against a company which had been registered as a private one within the meaning of Section 121 of that Act and which had subsequently exceeded its membership of 50, but had refused to include audited balance sheets with those returns when requested so to do by the Registrar, who contended that the company had thereby ceased to be a private one within the meaning of the Act and could no longer therefore claim the immunity or privilege extended to private companies under subsection 3 of Section 26. The decision was appealed against and a case was stated by the Magistrate for the opinion of the High Court, who, however, agreed with the Magistrate's ruling.
