Uniformity of Company Law throughout the Empire.

At the date of the last Report, bills following very closely the British Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, had been introduced into the legislatures of India, Nova Scotia, and Southern Nigeria. Of these bills, those in India and Southern Nigeria have become law, and in addition, an Ordinance on the same lines has been passed in Mauritius.

Legislation.

The Companies Act, 1913, has been passed this year for the purpose of amending section 121 of the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908. By that section, a company whose articles contain certain restrictions is a "private" company, and, as such, is entitled to exemption from some of the requirements imposed on other companies by the Act. In the case of Park v. Royalties Syndicate, Ltd. [1912 1 K.B. 330] the Court decided that a private company does not cease to be entitled to the privileges conferred by section 121 by reason that it has ceased to comply with the restrictions included in its articles. The Act is intended to remedy this defect in the law.

The Bankruptcy Act which has been passed this year contains a provision applying the law relating to bankruptcies to limited partnerships, the winding-up of which could previously be effected by means of a winding-up order under the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908; the provisions of that Act which relate to the winding up of limited partnerships have now been repealed as respects England.

Changes in Official Staff.

Since the date of the last Report, the Board of Trade have appointed Mr. H. A. Payne to be the Comptroller of the Companies Department on the retirement of Mr. R. C. Heron-Maxwell.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Board of Trade,

August 1913.

Your obedient Servant,

GEORGE STAPYLTON BARNES.

Progress of Registration of Companies.

The number of Companies registered in the United Kingdom during 1912, viz., 7,367, exceeds the number for 1911 by 923, and is the largest number registered during any one year since the Companies Act, 1862, came into force, the next highest number being 7,184, in 1910. The separate numbers for England and Wales, and Ireland, are also larger than in any preceding year, while the 401 registered in Scotland in 1912 has only been exceeded in 1909, when the number of registrations was 414.

The total amount of nominal capital for the United Kingdom in 1912 was 174,004,837*l.* This figure exceeds that of 1911 by 16,701,775*l.*, but the average amount of nominal capital of each company has decreased from 24,410*l.* in 1911, to 23,619*l.* in 1912.

Particulars of the registrations, and a classification of the companies registered, for the years 1903–12 in England and Wales, Scotland, and Ireland respectively, are given on pages 4 and 5.

Prospectusless Companies.

The number of companies applying for a special settlement in 1912 is 358, as compared with 264 in 1911. The following table shows that during each of the last three years there has been a slight increase in the percentage of companies applying for a special settlement which did not issue a prospectus.

The figures for 1912 for the United Kingdom show an increase of four only over those for 1911, following a decrease below the 1910 figure of 26. Three limited partnerships were ordered to be wound up during 1912.

The total number of limited partnerships registered since the Limited Partnerships Act, 1907, came into force is 530, or an annual average of 106. Although, therefore, this Act may have met the requirements of a certain proportion of the business world, its provisions have not been made use of to any considerable extent. This is doubtless largely due to the fact that in the same year as the Act was passed a section was included in the Companies Act, 1907, granting certain exemptions and privileges to companies (to be called private companies) which included in their articles of association the restrictions laid down by the section. By a reference to the figures on page 138 of this Report, it will be seen that in the United Kingdom there were on the register on the 31st December 1912, 42,736 private companies, and in England and Wales, out of an approximate number of 52,000 companies on the register at the end of 1912, 39,206 were private companies, or three-fourths of the total number. Out of a total number of 7,367 new companies registered during the year, 6,106 were private companies.

Companies ordered to be wound up by the Court.

The total number of companies ordered by the Court to be wound up compulsorily during the year 1912 was, as stated above, 151, of which 111 were ordered to be wound up in the High Court, and the remaining 40 in the Palatine Courts and in various County Courts. A complete list of these companies appears in Table VIII. of Annex No. XVI. attached to this Report.

The average duration of these companies was 4·53 years. One company had been in existence 77 years, three for over 20 years, and 20 had been registered less than one year before the date of the winding-up order.

The winding-up proceedings in one of the 151 companies against which winding-up orders were made have been stayed. The chief businesses carried on by the remaining companies are shown in the following list:—

Particulars of a few of the companies against which winding-up orders were made during 1912 are given below, together with some further information relating to the liquidations of the Birkbeck Permanent Benefit Building Society and the Bank of Egypt, Limited, particulars concerning which companies were given in my last report (pages 8-11).

The Birkbeck Permanent Benefit Building Society (High Court).

The realisation of assets has continued during the year. A further dividend of 2s. 8d. in the £. to the depositors and shareholders has been paid, making, with the 13s. 4d. in the £. previously distributed, a total of 16s. in the £. This dividend involved the distribution of about 1,102,800L., with previous dividends making a total distribution of 6,715,800L. There are still some assets of the company remaining unrealised. Litigation has been necessary in relation to the enforcement of claims against debtors; and also in reference to claims made upon the company for considerable sums, and successfully resisted by the official receiver. Certain actions are still pending in the Courts, including an appeal to the House of Lords from the decision of the Court of Appeal upon the question of the respective rights of depositors and A. and B. shareholders. The result of this appeal will not directly affect the position of the parties mentioned other than the B. shareholders, having regard to the scheme of arrangement referred to in my last report (page 8). The appeal is, however, necessary upon other grounds. A claim against the representatives of the late Francis Ravenscroft involving a sum of about 142,000L. is pending, as well as proceedings in relation to guarantees given by the directors in regard to the value of the assets of the society.

Bank of Egypt, Limited (High Court).

This company was wound up on 17th October 1911, with liabilities amounting to 2,237,104L., and assets estimated by the directors to be worth (after payment of a secured creditor) 2,708,587L. It was found on examination, however, that this estimate could not possibly be realized.

With a view to relieve the shareholders from the payment of the uncalled liability on their shares, negotiations took place for the sale of the assets en bloc, but it was found impossible to come to terms which would be acceptable, and the realization of the assets had to proceed.

In order to relieve the financial situation in Egypt and to avoid the liquidation in that country being carried out under the jurisdiction of the Mixed Tribunals, arrangements were made at the commencement of the liquidation with the acceptance holders, and with the National Bank of Egypt and others, under which the deficiency of liquid assets was met by the acceptance holders agreeing to take 50 per cent. of their claims in cash and the balance in loan certificates, and by the banks advancing the sum of 550,000L. in cash, secured by loan certificates and a charge on the share liability. These arrangements admitted of a cash distribution of 50 per cent. to the acceptance holders and the payment in full of the unsecured creditors.

In accordance with the provisions of the agreement under which the banks made the advances above referred to, the Court directed the liability on the shares to be called up by three instalments of 4l. 3s. 4d. each, payable in May, July, and September 1912. The collection of the call was very successful, a sum of 588,000L. being realized to February last out of a total liability of 625,000L.

The total collections and payments from the commencement of the liquidation to February last are as follows:—

Receipts:	£
Collections in London and Egypt (including cash balances at date of suspension) - - - - -	1,544,359
Amount borrowed from bankers - - - - -	550,000
Amount received to February 1913 from contributories in respect of call, amounting to 625,000L. - - - - -	588,068
	2,682,427

Payments:

To unsecured creditors, redemption of loan certificates (including final instalment and interest paid 13th February 1913), and bankers' advances, salaries, rents, charges, fees, &c., in London and Egypt - - - - -	2,604,343
Leaving cash balances in February 1913 amounting to - - - - -	78,084

The bankers' advances and the loan certificates have been paid off in full, together with interest thereon, and only a few claims and contingent liabilities, which should not exceed 20,000*l.*, remain outstanding. The liquidation is, therefore, being continued solely for the benefit of the shareholders.

A return of 2*l.* 5*s.* per share was made to the shareholders last May, and the official receiver anticipates that the realization of the outstanding assets will eventually prove sufficient to repay the call made upon the shareholders during the liquidation, but it is not yet possible to form an opinion when the realization will be concluded.

Rubber Companies.

The Essequibo Rubber and Tobacco Estates, Limited (High Court).—Registered on 6th April 1910 during the rubber boom and ordered to be wound up in June 1912. It was promoted by Joseph Chansay (who is said to be a Swiss subject) for the purpose of acquiring the benefit of licences to collect rubber and balata over 200 square miles of the Crown Lands in British Guiana. The nominal capital of the company was 100,000*l.* in 5*s.* shares, about 388,000 (97,000*l.*) of which were taken up by the public in response to a prospectus showing that 50,000 lbs. of rubber should be collected during the first year of the company's existence at a profit of 7,500*l.* and 120,000 lbs. of balata at a profit of 6,000*l.* The estimated profits of the second and third years included profits from tobacco crops, and were stated at 27,250*l.* and 34,500*l.* respectively. The estimate was not prepared by the person whose name was attached to it, and an extract quoted in the prospectus from the Colonial Office Report on British Guiana omitted a sentence showing that the total weight of rubber collected from the whole of the Colony during the year 1908-9 was 5,751 lbs. only. No rubber was collected by the company, and in fact the concessions contained none of any commercial value. The concessions were not suitable for tobacco cultivation and none was grown. The directors expended 5,300*l.* on expeditions to the concessions to collect balata, and that obtained realised less than 600*l.* The promoter fixed the price to be paid by the company for the concessions at 60,000*l.* of which 50,000*l.* represented the profits of himself and others. The directors ultimately paid Chansay 47,000*l.* in cash (in addition to promotion expenses and underwriting commission 8,250*l.*) although they had received information as to the actual value of the concessions which should have caused them to decline to complete the purchase.

The directors also underwrote shares in another company promoted by Chansay notwithstanding that they were advised not to do so. This transaction resulted in a loss of about 2,800*l.* The receiver for the debenture-holders estimates that the assets will produce about 5,000*l.*, and that is all that remains of the moneys actually received from the public, amounting to about 90,000*l.* The directors were publicly examined in February 1913, but Chansay did not attend and it is stated that he has returned to the Continent. Chansay was concerned in six other companies which are in compulsory liquidation.

Ceylon-Travancore Rubber and Tea Estates, Limited (High Court).—Formed in March 1910 to acquire and work rubber and tea estates in Ceylon and Southern India. Promoted by Joseph Chansay (acting through Industrial Selections, Ltd.). The purchase price payable by the company was 35,000*l.* all paid in cash except 1,500*l.* which was satisfied by the allotment of fully-paid shares. A further estate was subsequently purchased for 6,000*l.* cash. There were no valuations of the estates, and the directors appear to have acted under the influence of Chansay in the formation and also in subsequently paying cash for a large portion of the purchase price in respect of which they had an option to allot fully paid shares. In response to a prospectus, in which certain material contracts were not disclosed, 49,477*l.* was subscribed for shares. At the date of the winding-up order the estates were in the hands of a receiver for debenture holders whose claims amount to 4,500*l.* and the company's equity of redemption has since been sold by the liquidator for 1,150*l.*

Gold Coast Rubber and Mahogany Estates, Limited (High Court).—Registered on 5th April 1910 to acquire the leases of four concessions in the Gold Coast Colony. The nominal capital of the company was 75,000*l.* in 2*s.* shares, 499,375 (49,937*l.* 10*s.*) of which were taken up by the public in response to a prospectus in which it was stated that one of the directors and an expert had seen the properties, and that they estimated profits which would allow of the payment of a dividend on the total capital of the company of 15 per cent. for the first, 35 per cent. for the second and 40 per cent. for the third, fourth, fifth and sixth years. Neither the director nor the expert had seen the properties, but the latter reported that the concessions contained at least 33,060 mahogany trees and 66,120 rubber trees ready for tapping. The director subsequently went out to the concessions, and as the result of a thorough examination of three of the properties he found three mahogany trees and five or seven rubber trees. The remaining concession he could not reach as it was surrounded by seven miles of swamp. Before this information was received by the other directors they had made arrangements to purchase a rubber property in the German Cameroons, and to promote a company to acquire it. In view of this the directors state that the shareholders were not informed of the facts as to the original properties for which the company paid 6,734*l.* in cash and 7,400*l.* in shares. The concessions were valued by the directors at the date of the winding-up at 500*l.*, but the liquidator of the company has not yet been able to dispose of them. There are creditors' claims for 5,885*l.*, including directors' fees 924*l.*, and the liquidator states that the shareholders who subscribed over 49,000*l.* will not receive back anything.

H. and U. Rubber and Coffee Estates, Limited (High Court).—This company, which was ordered to be wound up on 22nd October 1912, was incorporated in April 1910, with a nominal capital of 195,000*l.* divided into 1,950,000 shares of 2*s.* each. It was promoted by the Mincing Lane Syndicate, Limited, to acquire freehold estates in the Republic of Colombia, and a business of rubber collecting and coffee and cocoa planting, which was represented as an old-established and a going concern. The price paid to the Syndicate was 140,000*l.*, divided into 85,000*l.* in cash and 55,000*l.* in shares, the Colombian vendors receiving 105,000*l.* in cash and shares from the Syndicate.

A prospectus was published, which resulted in the subscription of about 1,200,000 shares. The prospectus contained a glowing report on the properties and extraordinary statements as to the existence of Para and other kinds of rubber and balata gum, and as to the profits which could be earned. The directors, however, subsequently sent out an expert, who reported that the properties and business had been practically derelict since 1899, and that neither Para rubber nor balata gum existed on the estates.

The revelation by the directors of some of these facts at a meeting of shareholders in November 1911 led to proceedings, by some of the shareholders, for rectification of the register, and to further investigation by experts, when even a worse state of things than that revealed by the first expert was disclosed. Meanwhile many other shareholders commenced proceedings to obtain relief, and in September 1912 voluntary liquidation was decided upon.

In October 1912, however, the shareholders, who had taken the first proceedings for rectification of the register, obtained judgment against the company. Some of them had already, in view of the facts disclosed, presented the petition on which a compulsory winding-up order was made. The official receiver's investigation into the circumstances attending the promotion of this company is still proceeding.

Pacaya Rubber and Produce Company, Limited (High Court).—Formed in February 1910 to acquire and work rubber estates on the river Pacaya in Peru, about three days' journey from Iquitos. The purchase price payable by the company was 125,000*l.* (whereof 40,000*l.* was payable in cash). In March 1910, 100,000*l.* capital was offered for public subscription, and over subscribed. Actions were commenced by shareholders for rectification of the register, repayment of the amounts paid by them, and damages, on the ground, inter alia, that the prospectus did not fully disclose material facts and contracts, and contained untrue statements. The actions were pending at the date of the liquidation. The official receiver is informed by the liquidator that he has resold the estates to the original vendor for about 14,000*l.*

Aowin Rubber and Produce Company, Limited (High Court).—Registered in 1910 with a nominal capital of $5,000*l.* The order to wind-up this company was made towards the end of 1911, but was not referred to in the Report for that year as the investigation into the company's affairs had not been completed. The company was formed to acquire two leases of land in the Gold Coast Colony, West Africa. In the prospectus prepared by the promoters and issued by the directors it was estimated that the property contained 51,200 wild rubber trees ready for immediate tapping and 12,800 mahogany trees. The income to be derived from the property was estimated at 21,520*l.* for the first year to increase to 31,840*l.* by the third year. In support of these estimates, reports by two persons, described as "rubber experts," were set out in the prospectus. One report was made by a person who had not visited the property, and who subsequently admitted that he had not been nearer to it than a distance of 10 miles. The other report was made by a West African native, but the prospectus did not disclose the fact that he was the managing director of, and held a large number of shares in, the company from which the Aowin Company was to purchase the leases. The estimates of the company's income are described by officials of the Gold Coast Government as "a fearful exaggeration." On investigation, it transpired that the leases were old gold mining leases granted in 1901 by a native chief, and that their validity was doubtful. The company never obtained an assignment of the leases, and no attempt was made by it to collect rubber from the property. 2,380*l.* was received from the public for shares subscribed in response to the prospectus; shares subsequently taken up amounted to 2,900*l.*, making a total of 5,200*l.*, the whole of which has been lost. The official receiver reported to the court that in his opinion fraud had been committed in relation to the company as a result of which a public examination of the directors and persons concerned in the promotion, including the two "experts," was ordered.

Insurance Companies.

United London and Scottish Insurance Company, Limited (High Court).—This company, which was ordered to be wound-up on 18th June 1912, was incorporated in December 1907 with a nominal capital of 300,000*l.* divided into 60,000 shares of 5*l.* each. Its object was to carry on all descriptions of insurance business, excepting life assurance, but no marine risks or employers liability risks were undertaken.

A prospectus was issued in December 1907 offering the whole of the capital for public subscription, but, down to May 1910 less than 26,000 shares had been subscribed for. In that month the company paid a dividend of 5 per cent. in respect of the year ending 31st December 1909, although the amount reserved for unexpired risks was less than 32 per cent. of the premium income, and the business was not in a prosperous condition. A new issue of shares then took place, the prospectus announcing the fact of the dividend, and 14,309 further shares were subscribed for.

The results of the business transacted, however, continued to be unsatisfactory, the fire and accident departments showing especially large losses, and although a change in the management was made no great improvement was effected. In June 1911, the company entered into an agreement to acquire the business of the Omnium Insurance Corporation, Limited (excepting its life business), including two deposits of 20,000*l.* each, but it was subsequently found impossible to obtain possession of one of these because the Omnium Corporation's "Employers' Liability" risks had not run off. It was also discovered that the purchase had involved the company, contrary to the directors' expectation, in very large claims. Litigation ensued with the Omnium Corporation, and on that corporation going into voluntary liquidation, the directors of the company decided that they could not oppose a petition for compulsory winding-up.

London and Westminster Insurance Company, Limited (High Court).—This company was registered on 20th April 1905 with a nominal capital of 50,000*l.* to carry on every kind of insurance business except life assurance. The cash paid-up capital was 2,100*l.* There was no available working capital, and the company was dependent upon the premiums coming from the agents. The business at first was confined to the issue of premium bonds, but in 1907 the undertaking of an unregistered company carrying on fire insurance was acquired. The bond business was thereupon discontinued, and the company's operations were confined wholly to fire insurance. The premium income including premiums payable by re-insurance companies did not exceed 10,000*l.* The chief part of the business was done in France, and European and Asiatic Turkey, very little being done in England. At the date of the winding-up order the liabilities so far as disclosed amounted to 8,179*l.*, but many large claims have since been notified.

The company entered into re-insurance treaties with various small non-tariff companies, but by a clause in the treaties it was unable to obtain payment from these companies until it had itself paid the claims of the insured, which it was unable to do. Large sums were shown in the directors' statement of affairs as due from the agents abroad, but it appeared on investigation that in certain cases they had retained the premiums in order to pay the fire claims of their own agency, and that in other cases the premiums had been charged against them in the company's books as they became due without regard to lapses. Without any available capital the company appointed agents abroad, issued policies and collected premiums with no prospect, at least latterly, of meeting any losses, the moneys received being insufficient to meet current salaries and expenses. The company belongs to a class of wholly worthless insurance companies that may be expected to disappear gradually owing to the provisions of the Assurance Companies Act, 1909.

Miscellaneous Companies.

The Hudson Bay and Pacific Railway Development Company, Limited (High Court).—This company was formed in April 1909 with a capital which was ultimately increased to 250,000*l.* to construct and equip a line of railway in Canada under rights conferred by charter on the Hudson Bay and Pacific Railway Company in 1896. The promotion of the Development Company was at least the third attempt to raise funds for construction, and considerable obligations had accrued in connection with the previous attempts. The rights of construction were transferred to a friend of some of the Railway Company directors, and he contracted with the Railway Company to construct and equip the line for them in consideration of his having the right to the entire share and bond issue of that company and all subsidies, bonuses, and land grants that might be obtained; at the same time he undertook to provide a very large sum in cash and stock to satisfy the old obligations attaching to the charter.

The contractor then introduced the scheme to two persons who agreed to form the Development Company. The benefits of the contract with the Railway Company were transferred to these persons, the contractor reserving to himself 44 per cent. of the ultimate profits together with a considerable cash profit on the discharge of the old obligations.

After the registration of the company the promoters assigned their interests to a nominee who became the vendor to the company. As in the company's purchase agreement the charter was stated to be solely vested in this person, the object of the transfer to him would appear to have been to avoid disclosure of the preliminary agreements and their obligations and reservations.

The purchase price to the company was 100,000*l.* in shares and a commission of 5 per cent. on the actual cost price of construction; the company undertook, in general terms, to discharge all the obligations, &c., in connection with the charter, which amounted approximately to 25,000*l.* cash and 280,000*l.* stock of the Railway Company, although these figures were not disclosed. Immediately after the execution of the agreement the nominal vendor passed back all interest to the promoters, the real vendors.

The agreement was executed by the signatories acting as directors. The signatories were the proposed auditor of the company and six clerks, who could exercise no independent investigation of the character and extent of the vague liabilities to which they were binding the company. They also executed many other important documents, including agreements appointing the promoters to highly-paid and controlling positions in the company for life, with reversion to their sons.

The Railway Company, all this time, was lying dormant until its statutory minimum of $2,000,000 capital stock was subscribed, and 10 per cent. cash thereon deposited with a banker, to remain for the purposes of the railway. The company, through nominees, subscribed this minimum and made the 10 per cent. deposit by a few book entries, no cash passing. This transaction was treated as a compliance with statutory requirements, and the Railway Company commenced its internal operations. The stock was issued and the company's nominees met and appointed themselves directors.

The company then tried to get money, and the balance of its capital, 49,990*l.*, was issued in connection with some scheme for providing finance. No money or other consideration resulted, but the shares were not returned. To protect the issue the company then filed an agreement purporting to give the allottees a title for “services rendered.” From time to time, about 35,000*l.* has been raised on mortgage and otherwise, but at the enormous cost, in stock shares and bonds, of about 700,000*l.* as bonuses, commissions, and securities. About 8,000*l.* only of this has been spent on survey work, the rest has gone in salaries and expenses.

In December 1911, the promoter directors, by the use of their casting vote, received 3,377*l.* of the company's shares and 50,000*l.* of the Railway Company's bonds in place of 53,377 of their vendor shares, which they said had been given away on behalf of the company. Included in the amount was 10,710*l.* as bonuses for loans made to the promoters; but the company had already been charged with the amount of the preliminary expenses. The company has also paid 42,000*l.* Railway Company's shares to the promoters' creditors. No prospectus was issued but a booklet was prepared by the company. There was no disclosure of the heavy charges and reservations on the Charter, nor of the enormous wastage of resources which had been allowed. All this time the company's engineers in Canada had been hampered by want of money, and their operations had resulted in the survey of a few hundred miles of route and the construction of a few miles of rough road.

The company had barely more than commenced its work but had expended—and in addition, its creditors' claims amount to nearly 70,000*l.*

From the excessive cost of raising money for the scheme, it must have been early apparent that there was no prospect of financial success for the company, yet the resources of the company continued to be drained in the pursuit of comparatively small sums, which were immediately absorbed by current expenses.

British Columbia Development Association, Limited (High Court).—Registered in 1904 to promote commercial enterprise in British Columbia. The principal business done by the company was to acquire two estates in the Thompson River Valley, and through the medium of subsidiary companies, to develop these as fruit farms. Three subsidiary companies were formed, and these were financed by the company, the latter receiving debentures as security for its advances. The company experienced great difficulty in raising the capital necessary for its operations and on the advice of its managing director, who appears to have dominated his colleagues on the board, resorted to the raising of funds by the issue of debentures at a discount, the borrowing from money lenders at high rates of interest, and the payment of large sums to persons in consideration of their guaranteeing the repayment of loans. The company's income was derived from interest on debentures held in the subsidiary companies and according to the annual accounts its operations were successful until 1910, after which time, owing to the non-success of the subsidiary companies, the company got into difficulties. A receiver for debenture holders was appointed in November 1911, and the winding-up order followed in July 1912. According to the directors' estimate, the total deficiency of assets on realisation will amount to 162,118*l.*, of which 122,736*l.* is due to creditors, and the balance of 39,382*l.* represents the loss to shareholders.

Anglo-Adriatic Syndicate, Limited (High Court).—This company was registered in 1910 with a nominal capital of 50,000*l.* in 1*l.* shares to acquire from William Caspar for 20,000*l.* his rights to carry on a gaming business at the Casino at Corfu. The board failed to raise the purchase-money and the company became dormant. Joseph Chansay was then introduced to Caspar and agreed to finance the scheme. The company was converted into a public company, the old board resigned, and nominees of Chansay were appointed in their place and the offices were transferred to Chansay's office. An agreement was entered into between Chansay and Caspar whereby the former agreed to buy shares from the latter at the price of 1*l.* cash for three 1*l.* shares. Caspar had no such shares to sell, but a new purchase agreement was prepared which added 25,900*l.* in shares to the original purchase price in consideration of Caspar finding one-third of this amount for working capital. This made it appear that Caspar was giving the company valuable consideration for the 25,900 shares, whereas it was, in fact, a scheme to enable Chansay to get shares from the company through Caspar at three for 1*l*. It also locked up the balance of the company's capital in Caspar's name for Chansay's benefit. Through the medium of certain agencies which he controlled, Chansay was able to sell a considerable number of the shares at substantial premiums.

The company opened the Casino with Caspar as sole manager, with full control of the funds, but it was found that there was no security of tenure, and after a short and unsuccessful season the Casino was shut.

Consolidated Oilfields of California, Limited (High Court).—Registered in May 1910 with a nominal capital of 100,000*l*. (subsequently increased to 175,000*l*.) in shares of 10*s*. each, and ordered to be compulsorily wound-up in February 1912. The company was promoted by Victor Carter West, known as Major West, assisted by Charles Hervé Phillips (who acted as vendor), Henry George Starck, and two other persons, who, with West and Phillips, afterwards became directors of the company. The company was formed to acquire from Phillips certain oil-bearing properties in California for a consideration of 110,000*l*., payable 70,000*l*. in cash and 40,000*l*. in fully-paid shares of the company, the purchase price being actually discharged by the payment to the vendor of 2,000*l*., the setting off of 6,798*l*. due by the promoters to the company for shares subscribed, and the allotment to the vendor of fully-paid shares for the balance of 101,202*l*. The issue of the company's capital was made principally by giving preferential rights of allotment to certain firms of outside brokers conducted by Starck or Phillips, but in which West and other of the promoters were more or less interested, and of the 42,504 shares (21,252*l*.) shown to have been subscribed for cash, 32,985 (16,492*l*. 10*s*.) represent subscriptions received through the medium of the outside brokers referred to, who it was found upon investigation discharged liabilities to certain of their clients by obtaining for them from the company an allotment of partly-paid shares. In this manner many persons appear to have become shareholders of the company and liable for the unpaid proportion of the shares.

The property in California, which the company was formed to take over, is alleged to be of no value, and the description of it in the prospectus of the company as proven oil territory has been challenged by persons in this country and in California, as also the truth of a statement made that a strike of oil occurred upon the property a few months after the company had acquired it. Phillips, who appears to reside chiefly on the continent, has failed to meet the allegations made against him with regard to the promotion of the company and the value of the property, but West, the principal promoter, has produced certain evidence in support of the statements made by the promoters and directors. The means at the disposal of the official receiver, however, are not sufficient to enable an inquiry to be made in California, nor would the present position of the property appear to justify any outlay, it having been reported to him that the property has been seized and levied upon for wages due to workmen. 11,500*l*. in cash was received by the company in respect of shares issued, and this was disbursed as follows:—Preliminary expenses, 5,000*l*.; underwriting commission (paid to the vendor), 2,000*l*.; administration charges and general expenses, 1,000*l*.; remitted to California, 3,500*l*.

Richards Jay and Company, Limited (High Court).—A company promoted by Moss Jay and registered 31st March 1910 to deal in shares, to act as an "issuing house," and to promote other companies. It had no cash capital, the only actual shareholder was Jay, to whom were issued 500 shares of 1*l*. each as fully paid for "services rendered." Five further shares were issued to signatories, but were not paid for. Agreements were entered into for the acquisition of several properties in relation to which companies were subsequently promoted by Jay, and the benefit of those agreements was afterwards transferred to the Entertainment and Development Syndicate, Limited, a company also promoted by Jay. The statement of affairs shows receipts for commission on various issues and profits on purchase and sale of blocks of shares 8,808*l*. 5*s*. 3*d*., but these were more than absorbed by heavy salaries and expenses. Jay, the only director who was paid for services, received on account of remuneration the sum of 1,668*l*. 16*s*. 8*d*. The liabilities of the company are returned at 9,673*l*. 12*s*. 4*d*., and assets are estimated at 847*l*. 6*s*. 7*d*., but they are unsubstantial and nothing has been realised.

Palladium (Brighton), Limited (High Court).—Registered on 17th May 1911, promoted by Moss Jay through the Entertainment and Development Syndicate, Limited, a company now in liquidation. The Entertainment and Development Syndicate, Limited (which was in effect Jay), had been promoted by Jay through Richards

Jay and Company, Limited (see above), a company now in liquidation, of which he was also the promoter.

A total share capital of 22,088 shares of 10s. each was issued in the Palladium Company, of which 6,000 shares (3,000*l.*) were allotted as fully paid to the syndicate as vendors and 1,000 (500*l.*) to another person interested. 15,088 shares (7,544*l.*) were issued to the public for cash and were called and paid up. Subscriptions for shares were obtained by means of prospectuses in the form of circulars, and Richards Jay and Company, Limited, received commission of 25 per cent. on the bulk of these.

The company took over certain contracts from its vendors, the syndicate, relating to a theatre at Brighton which it acquired. The theatre was not a success, and shortly before the winding-up debentures for 3,400*l.* were issued at Jay's instance to the syndicate as consideration for liabilities of the company it had assumed. A receiver was appointed under the debentures on 7th March 1912, and on the 16th of the same month the property of the company was sold by him to another company for 4,000*l.* After payment of advances, &c., made by him and others, and expenses, the balance was paid by him to the syndicate, i.e., Jay, but the liabilities taken over do not seem to have been discharged.

The gross liabilities of the company, including debentures, are returned in the statement of affairs at 6,993*l.* 19*s.* 6*d.*, and the assets at 10,268*l.* 7*s.* 4*d.*, of which amount items valued at 9,000*l.* have been sold by the receiver for 4,000*l.* The debenture transactions are disputed, but apart from what may be realised therefrom and any misfeasance claims against the directors, there are no assets.

The Magic Ride Syndicate, Limited (High Court).—The company was incorporated in March 1911 to acquire and operate an invention for public amusement. The promoters fixed the capital at 5,000*l.*, on the basis of 1,150*l.* for the purchase price payable to the inventor, 1,750*l.* for working capital, and the balance of 2,100*l.* for themselves in payment for their promotion services; their out-of-pocket expenses were repaid by the company in cash; the directors and other officers were all nominees of the promoters. A circular headed "Particulars," but being in the general form of, and serving the purpose of a prospectus, giving a description of the invention and an estimate of profits, was printed together with forms of application for shares; it did not comply with the provisions contained in the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, relating to prospectuses. This circular was not issued to the public in the ordinary way, but supplies were kept on view in the promoters' offices and copies were handed to any caller who might be likely to subscribe. The issue met with some success, over 1,000 shares being subscribed.

H. C. Harvey, Limited (Birmingham).—This company was formed on the 6th June 1912, with a nominal capital of 100*l.* in 1,000 shares of 2*s.* each. It was promoted by Herbert Charles Harvey for the purpose of acquiring from himself, his wife, and two sons, the whole of the assets of Harvey & Co. (Aston Manor), Ltd., of which they had possession as the holders of the debentures for 500*l.* The consideration for the transfer was the issue to the holders of debentures in Harvey & Co. (Aston Manor), Ltd. of debentures for a similar amount in the new company. The sole director of the company was the promoter, and his son acted as secretary; all the shares were issued and were subscribed for by them.

This method of forming a new company to acquire the assets of the old company by means of the issue of debentures, appears to have been first adopted by the promoter, H. C. Harvey, in 1899, and there have been not less than 14 limited companies, of which the present company is the direct outcome, promoted by H. C. Harvey, and of all of which he was the sole director, each company being formed for the purpose of acquiring and continuing the business of its predecessor.

The promoter, H. C. Harvey, was adjudicated bankrupt in July 1889, and did not obtain his discharge until 1909, but in taking advantage of the Limited Liability Acts, he has been able to trade without making himself personally liable for the debts contracted in the name of the company.

On the 9th November 1912, the promoter, H. C. Harvey, took possession of the company's assets for the debenture holders, and yet another company, called Harvey Hiley & Co., Limited, was registered, to which this company's assets have been transferred by the receiver for the debenture holders, for debentures in the new company. There are consequently no assets for the unsecured creditors whose claims amount to 142*l.*

James Lawson and Company, Limited (Manchester).—This is an example of the proportionately large amount of credit which can be obtained by a private company with an insignificant amount of capital. The promoter had been in business privately as a dealer chiefly in incandescent mantles, and he was in debt to some extent when he registered this company on the 15th March 1912, with a nominal capital of 1,000*l.* in ordinary 1*l.* shares. The issued capital is 150*l.* 100*l.* was allotted to the promoter (50*l.* for the goodwill of his old business and 50*l.* for cash); but it is doubtful if he subscribed the latter amount. The only other shareholder is alleged to have subscribed 50*l.*, and he is stated to have been engaged thereafter as a book-keeper at 1*l.* a week, though he lived and continued to reside at Bradford, 39 miles from Manchester, where the business of the company was carried on. The company also issued a debenture for 150*l.* on 19th July 1912. The company, since its formation, has purchased (apart from its alleged dealings with local firms) trade goods of the value of 2,303*l.*, and has only paid to these creditors 169*l.* The company has opened accounts with six German firms, two firms in Paris, and also firms in Holland, Belgium, and New York. The purchases included a most varied assortment of goods, including incandescent lamps and burners, boot laces, furniture, clothing, ironmongery, &c. The company's officials allege that they have sold to six firms goods to the value of 1,364*l.*, towards which these firms are supposed to have paid 595*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.*, leaving a balance owing of 769*l.* 0*s.* 4*d.* London addresses are given in respect of four of these firms, but they cannot be traced, and the whole balance appears to be irrecoverable. The books of the company show several large sums as received, and others still due as book debts, but the company's banking account fails to confirm the books.

Maida Vale Roller Skating Palace and Club, Limited (High Court).—Formed in 1909 to construct and carry on a roller skating rink. The rink, which was one of the largest in England, was completed at a cost of nearly 30,000*l.* and was opened to the public in February 1910. For the first few months the takings at the rink amounted to about 800*l.* a week, but in the summer of 1910 the popularity of roller skating began to wane and the receipts consequently decreased. The diminution of the company's income continued until finally it was insufficient to meet expenses. In February 1912, a receiver was appointed by the Court on behalf of the debenture holder whose claim amounted to 10,500*l.* and the winding-up order followed. The property of the company was sold under an order of the Court made in July 1912 for 9,000*l.* The loss to creditors is estimated by the directors at 12,684*l.* in addition to the shareholders' capital of 10,021*l.* making a total deficiency of 22,705*l.*

Kent Outcrop Coal Syndicate, Limited (High Court).—The syndicate, which was ordered to be wound-up on 16th January 1912, was incorporated in June 1911, with a nominal capital of 50,000*l.* divided into 200,000 shares of 5*s.* each, and was promoted by A. L. Jackson for the purpose of purchasing and developing coal-bearing properties in Kent. Jackson persuaded a person to lend him 1,500*l.*, to be used for the purpose of promoting the syndicate, and to sign the memorandum and articles of association as a subscriber for 4,000 shares, which, with 58 shares subscribed for by the other signatories, formed the whole of the issued capital. The money lent was, with the exception of the amount necessary to register the syndicate, applied by Jackson for purposes of his own, and no attempt was made to proceed with the objects for which the syndicate was ostensibly formed. The directors, who were nominees of Jackson, were persuaded, on various pretexts, to sign bills of exchange and promissory notes on behalf of the syndicate, which Jackson used in payment of, or as security for, his own debts. Some of these bills were altered by Jackson with the view of deceiving the holders. Other bills were put forward by Jackson, which purported to have been accepted by the syndicate, but the persons whose names appeared thereon were either not officers of the syndicate, or were aliases for Jackson himself. Jackson also induced the directors to execute an agreement charging the syndicate's uncalled capital to some of his own creditors, but the discovery of this fact led to the presentation of the petition on which the winding-up order was made.

Companies not registered under the Companies Acts.

Four companies of those against which winding-up orders were made during 1912 were not registered under the Companies Acts, viz: Willenhall Permanent Money Society and Public Benefit Collecting Society, registered under the Friendly Societies Acts, Palana Collieries, Limited, registered in Rhodesia, and Victoria Society, Knottingley, which was not registered under any statute, but was established in 1835.

Criminal Proceedings.

Hudd and Collier, Limited (High Court).—The managing director, against whom proceedings were instituted for publishing a false balance sheet, for obtaining money by false pretences, and for obtaining credit by means of fraud other than false pretences, absconded to the United States of America. His extradition was obtained, and he was sentenced at the Bristol Assizes in November 1912 to 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

Kent Outcrop Coal Syndicate, Limited (High Court).—The promoter of the company was charged, in December 1912, at the Central Criminal Court, with forgery and obtaining money by false pretences. He was convicted and sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment with hard labour.

Brixton Skating Rink, Limited (High Court).—Proceedings were instituted at the Central Criminal Court against one of the directors of the company, for issuing a fraudulent prospectus, and he was sentenced in April 1913 to six months' imprisonment in the second division.

Annex No. XVIII.—Report by the Solicitor to the Board of Trade.

The legal proceedings conducted by me on behalf of the Board of Trade and official receivers consisted of the following matters :—

(1) Applications for transfer of proceedings.

In two cases applications were made for orders directing the transfer to the High Court of proceedings under winding-up orders made by provincial County Courts. In the first case the application was made at the instance of the official receiver (who was also provisional liquidator of the company) upon the ground that it was for the general convenience of all parties concerned in the liquidation of the company that the winding-up proceedings should be conducted in London, and an order was accordingly made transferring the proceedings to the High Court.

In the second case the application was made by a creditor of the company, upon grounds which involved certain allegations against the official receiver and others.

The company, which had a very short existence, was incorporated as a "private" company, with a capital of 5,000*l.*, divided into 5,000 shares of 1*l.* each, of which about one-half had been issued. The winding-up order was made on the petition of a creditor, and the statement of affairs showed that the company was quite insolvent, its assets being deficient to the extent of more than 1,600*l.* to meet even the claim of a debenture holder who held a charge upon the whole of the company's property.

The company had considerable dealings with the applicant for the order transferring the proceedings, and as a result of those transactions large payments were made to him shortly before the date of the winding-up order under circumstances which suggested that he was liable to repay the moneys received by him. With a view to ascertaining the facts in connection with the transactions in question, the official receiver obtained an order for the private examination of the applicant, and the Court also made an order giving leave to the committee of inspection to attend and take part in the examination by solicitor and counsel. At the appointment for the examination the applicant objected to being sworn upon the ground that the legal advisers for the committee were also advising a person with whom the applicant was in litigation in connection with matters relating to the company, and that the order giving leave to the committee to attend the examination had been obtained with the object of assisting their solicitor to obtain information to assist him in the action between the applicant and the member of the committee in question.

The registrar held that the applicant had shown no good reason why the examination should be adjourned, and upon the matter being referred to the judge, he also took the view that the applicant was bound to submit to examination at once. The applicant was accordingly examined by the official receiver, but owing to want of time the examination could not be concluded, and consequently it was adjourned; but before it could be resumed the applicant took steps to apply for the transfer of the winding-up proceedings to the High Court.

In support of the application the applicant filed an affidavit the substance of which was that he alleged that the official receiver had obtained the order for his examination not for any purpose connected with the winding-up, but with the object of assisting the applicant's opponent in the action referred to, and that as the learned County Court Judge considered that the examination ought to proceed without regard to the trial of the action, it was equitable that the proceedings should be removed to the High Court.

On behalf of the official receiver an affidavit was filed in which he explained that he had acted purely in pursuance of his duty as an officer of the Court, and that in taking the course adopted by him he was in no way influenced by the fact that the proceedings to which the applicant was a party were pending.

Mr. Justice Swinfen Eady held that the questions to be determined in the winding-up were of sufficient importance to justify the transfer of the proceedings to the High Court, but in coming to that decision he intimated that while he thought that the official receiver had committed an error of judgment in opposing an adjournment of the examination, he saw nothing more than that in the case so far as that official was concerned.

(2) Applications for orders staying proceedings.

In two cases applications were made for orders staying proceedings under the respective winding-up orders. In the one case a person interested in the company undertook to pay a composition of 4s. in the £ to the unsecured creditors, which, from the point of view of such creditors, was a beneficial arrangement, as the company's assets were sufficient only to pay a much smaller dividend. The official receiver satisfied himself that there were no matters in connection with the promotion or formation of the company or the conduct of its business as to which further inquiry was desirable, and accordingly the Court made an order staying the proceedings.

In the other case, the facts were that the official receiver as the liquidator of the company had realised sufficient assets to enable him to pay the claims of the creditors in full and to leave a surplus, and the whole of the shareholders, whose addresses were ascertainable, assented to the suggestion that the surplus should be paid to the former governing director of the company, with a view to the company resuming business. In this case also, the official receiver was able to inform the Court that there were no grounds for believing that there were any matters in connection with the promotion or formation of the company or the conduct of its business making further inquiry desirable, and an order was, therefore, made staying the proceedings.

(3) Proceedings against defaulting liquidators and receivers.

A large number of cases were again referred to me for the purpose of compelling liquidators of companies in process of voluntary liquidation to send the statutory statements showing the proceedings in and position of the liquidation. I am glad to report, however, that although I was instructed to take proceedings in 280 of such cases, the majority of the liquidators concerned were induced to forward the required statements without the necessity of proceedings, and summonses were issued in only 59 cases. Convictions were recorded in 31 cases, and penalties imposed varying from 40*l.* down to 10*s.*, the average penalty amounting to about 4*l.* 10*s.*, in addition to the costs of the summonses. In the remaining cases, the summonses were not proceeded with for various reasons, mainly because the defendants could not be served therewith.

There were also 177 cases referred to me in which the persons appointed to act as receivers or managers of the property of a company neglected to file an abstract of their receipts and payments. In only one case was it necessary to bring the matter before the Court, and the receiver concerned was ordered to pay the costs of the summons.

(4) Proceedings relating to companies not in liquidation for defaults in rendering returns, &c., under the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908.

During the year ending 31st December 1912, I had referred to me 1,181 companies for action in respect of default in the year 1911, and, in some of the cases for the years 1910 and 1909 as well, in rendering the various returns and notices required by the Companies Act, or otherwise for infringing the provisions of the Act; but in 10 cases only it was necessary to institute proceedings for penalties. In these 10 cases, however, 36 informations were laid and summonses issued.

The following convictions were obtained :—

- (1) Eleven for offences against Section 26 of the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, for failure to render returns for the years 1909, 1910, and 1911, i.e., copy list of members with summary as to capital and shares, &c.
- (2) Four for offences against Section 64 of the Act, i.e., failure to hold the ordinary general meeting during the calendar year 1911.
- (3) Two for offences under Section 75 of the Act, i.e., failure to notify the registrar of companies of change in the directorate of a company.

- (4) Three for offences under Section 88 of the Act, i.e., failure in two instances to file with the registrar of companies a contract in respect of which shares were allotted for a consideration other than cash, and failure in one instance to file a return of allotments.

Of the 16 charges upon which no convictions were obtained, one was withdrawn on medical evidence being given that defendant was dying, and another on conviction being obtained on another charge. In nine cases it was not possible to serve the defendants owing to their leaving their former addresses or being out of the jurisdiction. In five cases the summonses were dismissed for the following reasons :---

- (a) Three because the defendants were able to satisfy the magistrates that they were not knowingly and wilfully parties to a default under Section 64 of the Act for not holding an annual general meeting.
- (b) One because the defendant was able to show that he had actually ceased to be a director at the time of the default.
- (c) One being a prosecution for an offence against Section 282 of the Act for unlawfully carrying on business as a limited liability company without being registered as such, because the magistrates were not satisfied that the defendant was the real culprit in the case.
