Uniformity of Company Law within the Empire.

Considerable progress is being made in the assimilation of Company Law throughout the Empire, 14 Acts and Ordinances following closely the British Companies (Consolidation) Act of 1908 having been passed by the Legislatures of Colonies and Dependencies in various parts of His Majesty's Dominions. Barbados, British Columbia, Hong Kong, India, Mauritius, Nova Scotia, Southern Nigeria, Swaziland, Transvaal, and Victoria have already been noted in previous Reports, and British Guiana, Fiji, Papua, and Trinidad must now be added.

Legislation.

The change in the law with regard to the winding-up of limited partnerships, which was referred to in my last report, came into force on the 1st April 1914, and from that date, under the Bankruptcy and Deeds of Arrangement Act, 1913, the bankruptcy procedure has become applicable to the winding up of these partnerships.

I am, Sir,

Your obedient Servant,
GEORGE STAPYLTON BARNES.

Board of Trade,
August 1914.

Progress of Registration of Companies.

The number of registrations of companies in the United Kingdom has increased from 7,367 in 1912 to 7,425 in 1913, but the total nominal capital has decreased by 16,818,184*l.*, the figures being 174,004,837*l.* for 1912 and 157,186,653*l.* for 1913, and the average amount of the nominal capital has also decreased from 23,619*l.* in 1912 to 21,169*l.* in 1913.

In England and Wales and in Scotland the movement of numbers and nominal capital has been in the same direction as in the United Kingdom as a whole, but in Ireland, while the number of registrations has decreased from 170 to 145, the total nominal capital has increased from 1,398,339*l.* to 2,800,989*l.*, and the average amount of the nominal capital from 8,225*l.* to 19,317*l.* A reference to the table on page 5 will show that this increase of capital has been caused by the registration of a few companies with a large nominal capital, and it may be interesting to note that until last year a company with a capital of 1,000,000*l.* or over had not been registered in Ireland since the year 1896.

Particulars of the registrations and classifications of companies registered for the years 1904-1913 in England and Wales, Scotland, and Ireland respectively will be found on the two preceding pages.

Private companies form a large and increasing proportion of the total number of companies registered, and the figures on page 124 of this Report show that in the United Kingdom there were on the register on the 31st December 1913 49,830 private companies out of approximately 63,000 companies on the register, or 79 per cent. of the total number. Out of 7,425 companies registered during the year 6,328, or 85 per cent., were private companies.

Prospectusless Companies.

The number of companies applying to the Stock Exchange for a special settlement during 1913 is 196, as compared with 358 in 1912. The proportion of these companies without a prospectus is considerably larger in 1913 than in recent years, the percentages, 58 during the first half of the year, and 55 during the remainder, being the highest since 1905.

The number of limited partnerships registered during 1913 is the lowest since the Limited Partnerships Act, 1907, came into force, being only 69. The number ordered to be wound up during the past year is two. As from the 1st April 1914, the provisions of the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, relating to the winding up of limited partnerships have been repealed.

Companies ordered to be wound up by the Court.

The total number of companies ordered by the Court to be wound up compulsorily during the year 1913 was, as stated above, 137, of which 97 were ordered to be wound up in the High Court, and the remaining 40 in the Palatine Courts and in various County Courts. A complete list of these companies appears in Table VIII. of Annex No. XVI. attached to this Report. The average duration of these companies was 6·2 years. Two unregistered societies had been in existence over 100 years, one company for 49 years, one for 30 years, and three for over 20 years. Twenty-four companies had been registered less than one year before the date of the winding-up order.

The winding-up proceedings in one of the 137 companies against which winding-up orders were made have been stayed. The chief businesses carried on by the remaining companies are shown in the following list :—

Particulars of a few of the companies against which winding-up orders were made during 1913 are given below.

The Peruvian Amazon Company, Limited (High Court).

A rubber company registered 26th September 1907, and promoted in London in order to obtain English capital which was secured to the extent of 100,000*l.* A prospectus offered two large businesses in Manaos (Brazil), and Iquitos (Peru), with immense rubber estates, and the local vendors represented these as of great value and as producing considerable profits. The businesses were carried on by the company for four years at considerable loss, the profits shown in and anticipated by the prospectus were not made and the estates have not proved to be of value to the company.

The company went into voluntary liquidation on the 27th September 1911, and compulsory liquidation followed on the 19th March 1913. A small sum (about 2,000*l.*) will probably be available for London creditors whose claims amount to about 49,000*l.* There are no funds available for the shareholders. The businesses and estates are still in the hands of the principal vendor who acted as one of the managers of the business. Before the winding-up order he had been appointed voluntary liquidator and still carries on the business. He asserts that he is dealing with local creditors whose claims are returned at about 224,000*l.*

The case has obtained notoriety consequent upon disclosures as to the character of its operations. A commission was sent out by the company in 1910 to inquire (inter alia) as to the methods of carrying on the company's business and at the same time Sir Roger Casement was appointed by the Foreign Office to proceed to the Putumayo. The inquiry disclosed that a condition of gross slavery of native Indians existed under the company's management there.

The facts of the case, in the opinion of the official receiver, show the difficulty of controlling a business in an uncivilised country and the necessity of placing reliable persons in charge. The supposed control of the English directors was entirely ineffective, and the criminal acts of the company's employees continued unreported and unchecked, nor did the directors ascertain the real nature of the business taken over.

The Boinsu Rubber Company, Limited (High Court).

Formed in April 1910, with a nominal capital of 125,000*l.* in shares of 5*s.* each, to acquire from a promoting syndicate (of which one William Scott Rogerson was the leading spirit), a lease of the Boinsu Estate in the Aowin District of the Colony of the Gold Coast, British West Africa. The lease, which was for 99 years at a rental of 5*l.* per annum (afterwards increased at the instance of the Gold Coast Government to 200*l.* per annum), was obtained for the promoting syndicate by Rogerson from a native chief, and gave the right to remove rubber and timber from the estate. It was sold by the promoting syndicate to the company for 65,000*l.*, which was discharged by the payment to the syndicate of 25,000*l.* in cash, and the allotment to its nominees of 160,000 fully paid shares (40,000*l.*). Upon incorporation a prospectus was issued by the company stating that the property comprised an area of about 20 square miles, or 12,800 acres, and that it abounded in rubber vines and trees and mahogany. According to a report which accompanies the prospectus it was estimated that there were on the estate an average of 10 or 11 rubber vines or trees and one mahogany tree to the acre, and upon the basis of the forest being cleared at the rate of 1,000 acres per annum profits of 19,790*l.* per annum were estimated for the first five years (sufficient to pay a dividend of 14 per cent. per annum from the commencement of operations), and largely increased profits for the sixth, seventh, and eighth years. The prospectus further contained a statement with regard to transport the accuracy of which is in dispute. As a result of the issue of the prospectus, 77,100*l.* was subscribed and the company commenced operations shortly after its formation; but notwithstanding that 22,000*l.* was expended upon the development of the properties the company was not successful in producing rubber from them; the only rubber obtained was bought from natives, which, upon resale, resulted in a substantial loss. A certain number of mahogany trees were felled, and about 55 logs were brought to within three miles of the coast, but none was shipped. In order to enable the company to obtain a certificate of validity in respect of the Boinsu Estate, it became necessary that the property should be surveyed by a surveyor approved by the Gold Coast Government. Upon a first survey it was not possible to obtain more than 9 square miles, and upon a re-survey not more than 12 square miles, could be secured. The chief, however, who granted the lease, promised to grant such additional land as would make up the 20 square miles comprised in the lease. To facilitate the transport of goods the company undertook the construction at Half Assinee, British West Africa, of a canal three miles in length which it was contended would not only be of material benefit to the company, but would prove a source of revenue to it by the conveyance of goods belonging to others. At the date of the winding-up order, viz., 28th October 1913, the canal had cost 3,265*l.*, but was still not completed.

The Boinsu Estate is described by two of the directors of the company who visited it, and by certain of its employees, as an impenetrable forest, and, owing to its being some 50 miles from the coast and to transport difficulties, it is inconceivable that the property as a rubber and mahogany estate could ever be made to pay even assuming that it is as rich in rubber trees and vines and mahogany trees as was stated in the prospectus, which is doubtful. Proceedings were taken by a number of shareholders of the company for rescission of contract on the ground of misrepresentation in the prospectus, and these actions were, upon the advice of counsel, compromised by the company, who paid the costs of the plaintiffs and removed their names from the company's register under an order obtained from the Court, the shareholders suing being relieved of a liability of 2*s.* per share, the company retaining 3*s.* per share already paid upon the shares.

The assets of the company in British West Africa, which have cost the company 79,371*l.*, are valued by two of the directors of the company at 11,049*l.*; a third director values them at 70,990*l.*

Standard Financial Corporation, Limited (High Court).—This company was formed in 1892, with objects which proved abortive, and remained dormant until 1908, when it was revived by Louis Eddelbüttel for the purpose of carrying on a business of converting continental firms into English limited companies.

Eddelbüttel appointed the board of directors and obtained from them full power to conduct the company's business with customers; he was also entitled to sign cheques, which the secretary countersigned in blank, and thus had control of the expenditure of the company's funds. Eddelbüttel procured the company to allot to him 34,000 shares in purchase of certain alleged businesses on the Continent, but no evidence of the existence of these businesses was, or is, forthcoming. The shares were allotted mostly into the names of nominees. The company has declared dividends on these shares which were paid directly and indirectly to Eddelbüttel to the extent of about 5,000*l.*

The company has done a considerable amount of business, altogether about 60,000*l.* having been received from customers for the purposes of the conversion of their businesses and the issue of capital. In many cases the work done has been quite incommensurate with the fees charged and received, and at the date of the winding-up several customers were suing the company for a return of a total sum paid of about 15,000*l.* on the ground that the consideration therefor had wholly failed. The actions were closely contested through the preliminary stages but were not carried into court, judgment being allowed in most cases to go by default.

The company has from time to time bought up dormant companies by purchasing outstanding shares and electing a new board of directors. The object of acquiring these concerns was expressed to be for them to trade in conjunction with the company, and in some cases to take over a part of its assets or business. In two cases Eddelbüttel subscribed on behalf of the company for shares in such subsidiary companies to an extent far beyond the company's power to pay, and ultimately Eddelbüttel, as managing director of the subsidiary companies, forfeited the company's holding for non-payment of calls, the company thus losing its initial application payments of some thousands of pounds. A result of the company's subscriptions to these subsidiary companies was to enable the latter with the cash to buy from Eddelbüttel some of the shares he held in the company; there is no evidence that the company in any way benefited by its relations with the subsidiary companies.

The company throughout has carried on its business in the interests of Eddelbüttel, and this has been facilitated by reason of the board of directors allowing themselves to be dominated by him.

The Port Argentine Great Central Railways Company, Limited (High Court).—A company registered 23rd October 1908 with a nominal capital of 4,000,000*l.*, its objects being to make a new port and to construct railways in the Argentine. 1,500,000*l.* of the capital was issued as fully paid in ordinary shares to vendors and 20,000*l.* of preference shares were allotted for cash. To avoid, apparently, the conditions of the Companies Acts relating to prospectuses, 3,000,000*l.* of debentures were "sold" to French bankers by whom a debenture prospectus was issued to the public. Subscriptions for debentures were received in France and England amounting to 166,594*l.* and were largely used to pay the company's contractors. Provisional bonds were handed to subscribers but no formal debentures were ever granted. The French bankers failed to complete their contract to purchase the 3,000,000*l.* debentures and for lack of funds the works were stopped, and the concessions belonging to the company have been forfeited.

The official receiver reports that the only assets are subscriptions for debentures, 33,992*l.* paid into Court by trustees for debenture holders, and the ownership of this fund is the subject of an action. The company has no other assets. The subscriptions were received under the prospectus which not being issued by the company causes a dispute as to whom the money belongs, the debenture subscribers, the vendors of the debentures, or the company.

The Vagliano Anthracite Collieries, Limited (High Court).—A company registered on 7th November 1908 with a nominal capital of 202,500*l.* divided into 200,000 ordinary shares of 1*l.* each and 50,000 deferred shares of 1*s.* each. Of this 199,993 ordinary shares and 46,651 deferred shares have been allotted as fully paid to the vendor to acquire collieries in Russia. The remaining shares have been allotted for cash. Cash was provided (to settle with the vendors and provide funds for working) by the issue of 165,000*l.* debenture stock and a later issue of 40,000*l.* debentures. Gross liabilities to creditors at the date of the winding-up (including debentures) amount to 418,092*l.*, the great bulk of which are English claims. Russian legal formalities were omitted in regard to the 165,000*l.* debenture stock and they are reported to form no security on the property. The second issue of 40,000*l.* appears to be in order. Numbers of disputes have arisen and the company is now involved in costly litigation to settle them. The cause of the failure is attributable to the bad management at the mine.

The Provincial Furnishing Company, Limited (High Court).—This company was formed on 29th January 1912 with a nominal capital of 3,000*l.* divided into 12,000 shares of 5*s.* each to acquire and carry on a house furnishers' business at Brighton, which had been in existence since June 1911. It took over only the assets of the business, and one of the vendors became bankrupt in March 1912, when it transpired that the liabilities outstanding for goods supplied to the business amounted to 1,608*l.*

The consideration paid by the company was 330*l.* of which 130*l.* was satisfied by cash (or bills) and 200*l.* by the issue as fully paid of 8,000 shares of 5*s.* each, which shares were taken under the purchase agreement as of the value of 6*d.* each. Subsequently one of the vendors purported to surrender 800 of these shares to the company which issued in exchange therefor debentures for 200*l.*, the shares being taken in this instance as of their full nominal value. Debentures were also issued to other persons concerned in the promotion of the company, in respect of alleged advances, but the books were, it is stated, destroyed by a fire which took place on the company's premises on 14th April 1912, and no evidence of these advances has been produced.

The company's assets are alleged to have been realised by a receiver on behalf of the debenture holders, and the proceeds thereof amounting to about 90*l.* divided amongst the debenture holders. The receiver, however, cannot be found and no notice of his appointment and no account of his receipts and payments have been filed at the Joint Stock Registry.

The unsecured creditors whose claims are returned at 398*l.* have received nothing.

The business both before and after the formation of the company seems to have been controlled throughout by the same person, who does not appear in any official capacity in connection with it. The two vendors to the company were apparently his nominees and the assets were transferred to the company with the object of placing them beyond the reach of the creditors of the vendors. The official receiver states that neither before nor after the formation of the company was the cash properly accounted for and that when the business was discontinued the whole of the proceeds of the assets went to the debenture holders who were members of the family of the person who controlled the business and probably his nominees.

Goyaz Exploration Syndicate, Limited (High Court).—The promoter, Lance Campbell, in 1910 told several friends and acquaintances that he had acquired an option over a diamond bearing property in Brazil, and as a result he received in cash subscriptions amounting to 10,000*l.* He registered a company with a capital of 15,450*l.* to acquire the property, and caused certificates for 10,950 shares to be issued to the persons who had subscribed that amount. He retained 4,500 shares for himself but subsequently sold 3,500 of them at prices which realised altogether 3,725*l.* When the directors pressed for particulars as to the property and asked to see the titles, Campbell produced letters from a lawyer in Rio de Janeiro of which the authenticity has been denied. These letters purported to explain the delay in sending the title deeds and to acknowledge the receipt from Campbell of 15,450*l.* for the purchase of the properties, and also stated that a portion of the company's estates had been let at an annual rental of 7,500*l.* When the facts with regard to the letters were discovered Campbell disappeared, and when the company was ordered to be wound up it appeared as a result of the official receiver's investigations that the money had never been paid into its bank account, that the company had no estates, and the only person who knew anything about the true facts could not be found. He has not yet been traced.

S. Brill and Company, Limited (High Court).—Formed in 1909 to carry on business as importers of Russian poultry and eggs. The company's business was chiefly that of poultry dealers, the birds being collected in Russia and transferred to feeding stations there until ready for killing. After being prepared for market the goods were placed in cold storage at Koslow until they could be sent to the London market. The company's business was very successful until June 1912, and substantial dividends were paid to shareholders. In November 1912, however, a fire occurred at the cold store in which practically the whole of the company's stock in trade was destroyed. The resulting loss to which the Company's failure was mainly due, amounted to 47,000*l.*, only 20,000*l.* of which was covered by insurance. In view of the comparatively small cost of insurance the official receiver thinks that the proportion of risk taken by the company appears to have been unnecessarily great. He states that the company's liabilities amount to 28,379*l.* and its assets are valued at a total of 18,329*l.*, showing a loss to creditors of 10,050*l.* In addition, the loss to shareholders amounts to 25,050*l.*

The Daily Herald Printing and Publishing Society, Limited (High Court).—Registered in September 1912 with a nominal capital of 50,000*l.* divided into 800,000 6 per cent. Preference shares and 200,000 Ordinary shares of 1*s.* each. The company was the successor of a society registered under the Industrial and Provident Societies Acts, 1893 to 1895, which had obtained from the London Society of Compositors, as a gift, the goodwill and title of the "Daily Herald" newspaper. Upon the formation of the company it was arranged that the members of the old society should receive from the company 72,000 fully paid Preference shares (3,600*l.*) in exchange for the shares held by them in the old society, and subsequently 29,358 shares (1,467*l.*) were issued by the company as fully paid to members of the old society. 14,000 Preference shares (700*l.*) were to be allotted to the subscribers to what was known as the Daily Herald Million Fund in respect of the contributions made by them through the medium of that fund to the old society, but no shares were allotted to the subscribers as intended. The old society appears to have traded at a heavy loss and to have incurred liabilities amounting to several thousand pounds, which liabilities were taken over by the company. The company, when incorporated, was consequently in an insolvent state, and, although further capital to the extent of 16,000*l.* was raised, heavy losses, amounting approximately to 500*l.* per week, continued to be made, and in June 1913 the company was ordered to be wound-up compulsorily. The goodwill and copyright of the paper were disposed of in the winding-up, with the approval of the principal creditors, for 50*l.*, and the "Daily Herald" paper has since been continued. A large amount was due to the company for book debts, but it is estimated that the loss to creditors will exceed 8,000*l.*

The Sierra Morena Copper Mines, Limited (High Court).—This company was promoted by Arthur Stephen Plews (who subsequently became chairman in January 1907) and was registered on 17th April 1900, with a nominal capital of 80,000*l.* (increased in May 1907 to 110,000*l.*), to acquire for 60,000*l.*, payable in shares, a mining property situate at Peñafior, Seville, Spain, from the Colombia and North West Mines Development Syndicate, Limited, all the shares in which were controlled by Plews. The company had no working capital to start with, but early in 1907 a considerable number of shares held by the Colombia Syndicate were disposed of in France at high premiums, a sum of about 10,000*l.* being received in this connection by that syndicate, with which it applied for the then unissued 19,993 shares in the company and paid a call of 8*s.* per share thereon.

In April 1907 the company acquired for 20,000*l.* cash from the Castle Syndicate, Limited (of which A. S. Plews was chairman, and held with his nominees all the shares excepting the seven signatory shares) a further mining property adjoining the one referred to above. The price, if any, paid by the Castle Syndicate, Limited, has not been ascertained, but one, Ramos, claims as original vendor 4,000 fully paid shares in the Sierra Morena Copper Mines, Limited. In January 1908 the 19,993 shares subscribed for by the Colombia Syndicate were transferred to the Castle Syndicate, which then paid up the balance of 12*s.* per share by means of cross cheques, the company drawing one for 12,000*l.* in part payment of the purchase price of 20,000*l.*; ultimately the balance of the purchase price appearing as due to the Castle Syndicate was transferred to the Colombia Syndicate, which thus appeared in the company's books as creditors for a large sum.

In May 1911 the company's representative in Spain applied for payment of about 600*l.* due to him, and failing payment threatened to dispose of the mines. The mines at Plews' suggestion were thereupon transferred to the nominee of the Colombia Syndicate, the Standard Share and Debenture Corporation, Limited (another company controlled by Plews) for a nominal consideration of 500*l.* The transaction purports to have been for the purpose of protecting the interests of all the creditors and shareholders, and Plews and the Colombia Syndicate have been called upon to retransfer the mines to the company, but they have refused to do so.

The Rubber and Produce Investment Trust, Limited (High Court).—This company was incorporated in March 1910, with a nominal capital of 20,000*l.* in 200,000 shares at 2*s.* each, with the view of carrying on a general financial business in connection with rubber estates, but the principal reason for its formation appears to have been to take over from the promoter, J. Wolstenholme, an option to acquire a gem mining property in Ceylon. Immediately after incorporation the directors (the promoter and his nominees) agreed to purchase from Wolstenholme for 9,850*l.* in cash an option which he held over the said property, and under which there was a liability to provide working capital for the development of the mines up to 40,000*l.* At the same time Wolstenholme applied for and was allotted 98,496 shares in the company, the liability for which was 9,849*l.* 12*s.* A cheque for this amount was not handed over and paid into the company's banking account, however, until a month later on the same date when the company's cheque for 9,850*l.* handed to Wolstenholme for the mining option also passed through the banking account against the cheque for 9,849*l.* Thus it is seen that the promoter really sold his option for shares; but as vendor's shares are under certain disabilities in Stock Exchange dealings he and the company went through the form of passing fictitious cheques to give the shares the appearance of being subscribed for cash.

Immediately following the directors' resolution to take over Wolstenholme's option, the company entered into an agreement with the grantor of the option to purchase the mining property covered by the said option with the view of its resale to a larger company to be formed to take over and work it. In order to provide funds to meet the expenses in connection with the formation of the larger company and the transfer of the property thereto, the trust issued a prospectus inviting subscriptions to an issue of its own shares of 2s. each at a premium of 3s. per share. As the result of this issue 46,652 shares were subscribed for by the public and allotted. The prospectus stated that no shares had been issued except for cash, but no disclosure was made of the payment to the promoter of the 9,850*l.* for his option in the circumstances already referred to, or of his fictitious subscription for shares. The directors state that they were advised that no disclosure was necessary. Owing to its inability to raise sufficient funds to carry out the acquisition of the mines the company had to abandon the matter, after expending thereon the sum of 6,885*l.* in addition to the 9,850*l.* paid to the promoter for his option, all of which formed a total loss. The promoter disposed of a quantity of his shares.

The company, after endeavouring to carry out other business in connection with an oil property and a rubber plantation was wound up in June 1913, with a total deficiency of 16,347*l.*

New Zealand Oilfields, Limited (High Court).—This company was promoted by George Macdonald to acquire and work oil concessions in New Zealand.

The price which the owner was willing to accept for the concessions was 50,000*l.* in fully-paid shares, and to this the person who introduced the property to Macdonald had added 10,000*l.* shares and 2,000*l.* cash as his profit. On the plea of the necessity for underwriting the cash capital required, Macdonald passed the property through the hands of two syndicates in which he was interested, adding their profits of 23,000*l.* and 25,750*l.* respectively as well as underwriting commission so that the company had to pay 110,750*l.*, 12,416*l.* in cash and 98,334*l.* in fully-paid shares.

Although the company's regulations provided for the signature of cheques by two directors and the secretary, and although directors were always available in London, the security of this provision was evaded by considerable sums of money being, with the assistance of a friendly director, paid to Macdonald to meet contingencies which were not liable to arise immediately, and one such sum of 7,500*l.* paid to him in November 1910 has not been repaid by him although the matter for which it was intended was abandoned in the following month.

Another point of interest in this case, and one which is of frequent occurrence, is the means adopted for evading certain salutary provisions of the Stock Exchange under which vendor's shares are under certain disabilities. The purchase agreement provided that 40,000*l.* of the consideration should be paid in cash to the extent that the public subscription was in excess of 70,000*l.*, and the balance of the 40,000*l.* in shares. The public subscriptions slightly exceeded 70,000*l.* The vendors thereupon purported to subscribe for 20,000*l.* worth of shares knowing that this money would come back to them as purchase money (in fact a mere exchange of cheques) and thus instead of 20,000*l.* of "vendor's" shares they obtained that amount of "cash" or "subscribed" shares free from market disabilities.

Stone Ground, Limited (High Court).—Formed in 1911 to carry on business as bakers and dealers in bread made from stone-ground flour. The company issued debentures for 700*l.* In December 1911 a claim for workmen's compensation arose which was duly notified to the company on the 6th February 1912. The compensation subsequently awarded by the County Court was 256*l.* On 15th February 1912 the debenture holders appointed a receiver and manager. At this date the assets were valued at 61*l.* The workmen's compensation claim, which is preferential to the extent of 100*l.*, should have been dealt with by the receiver immediately on his appointment. The receiver, however, continued to carry on the company's business, and in course of doing so expended the assets taken over by him and incurred liabilities. The representatives of the workman sued the receiver for damages, and it was held by the Court that in having paid away the assets of the company without having provided for the plaintiff's claim the receiver had committed a breach of his statutory duty under section 107 of the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, and he was ordered to pay to the plaintiff 50*l.* as damages.

Moore's Depositories and Furniture Warehouses, Limited (High Court).—Formed in May, 1913, to carry on business as furniture dealers and warehousemen. The principal business transacted by the company was the sale of furniture on the following system, viz.:—Upon goods being selected by a customer the latter would pay a deposit and agree to discharge the balance of the price by instalments. Customers state that when their deposits were paid promises were made to them that the goods selected should be stored free of charge until paid for. The company's practice was, however, not to set the goods aside but on payment in full of the price to supply goods of a similar description from its general stock. Several customers have complained that the goods selected by them and for which they have paid or were ready to pay have been delivered to other customers. The managing director states that when a promise was made to set aside specific goods these were ear-marked and warehoused. One result of its system of trading was to enable the company to trade with a small working capital, the cash required for the business being provided by the instalment customers. In September 1913 the company's methods of business were criticised in the press, with the result that an abnormal demand by customers for delivery of their goods was made, which demand the company was unable to meet. The complaints of customers are being investigated by the official receiver. The claims of unsecured creditors are returned at 3,532*l.*, while the assets available to meet these are valued at 1,055*l.*, representing a deficiency of 2,477*l.*

Llandilo Gas Company, Limited (Carmarthen).—Registered in 1864 to supply the town of Llandilo with gas. The nominal capital was 2,000*l.*, of which 1,680*l.* was subscribed and paid up. The official receiver states that dividends varying from 2 per cent. to 9 per cent. were paid, with the exception of the years 1873 and 1900, from 1865 to 1906, but that from 1907 to 1912 small losses or profits were shown. The winding-up order was made on the 5th December 1913, and the official receiver carried on the undertaking from the 24th November 1913, when he was appointed provisional liquidator, until the 4th March 1914. The official receiver is of opinion that the cause of failure is the dilapidated condition into which the plant was allowed to fall owing to the whole of the profits having been distributed without any allowance being made for depreciation. A debenture for 500*l.* was issued in 1866 and is still outstanding, and the unsecured claims are estimated in the statement of affairs at 433*l.*

Stannaries Mining and Smelting Company (Truro).—This was a partnership between two individuals formed for working mines in the Stannaries. In May 1913 an action was brought in the Chancery Division of the High Court by one of the partners for the dissolution of the partnership. This action was dismissed on the ground that section 2 of the Stannaries Act, 1887, includes such a partnership in the definition of "company," and that by section 28 of that Act and section 131 (4) of the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, a petition to wind up a company in the Stannaries must be made to the Court exercising the Stannaries jurisdiction. This decision was upheld by the Court of Appeal, and a petition was subsequently presented to the County Court at Truro (the Court exercising jurisdiction in the Stannaries) upon which a winding-up order was made.

Companies not Registered under the Companies Acts.

Of the companies ordered to be wound up during 1913, seven were not registered under the Companies Act, viz.:—Bullers Permanent Money Society (Birmingham), City of Bradford Permanent Money Society (Bradford), and Industrial Permanent Money Society (West Bromwich), registered under the Friendly Societies Acts; Stannaries Mining and Smelting Company (Truro), a partnership formed for working mines in the Stannaries; Female Friendly Society established in Blaby in the County of Leicester (Leicester), Osmondthorpe Hall Freehold Garden and Building Allotment Association (High Court), Tean Friendly Society (High Court), not registered under any Act of Parliament.

Criminal Proceedings.

Lozells Investment and Building Society, Limited (Birmingham).—Proceedings for conspiracy to defraud and other offences under the Larceny Act and the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, were instituted against five of the directors of the company in July 1913. All were convicted and were sentenced to terms of imprisonment varying from six to twelve months.

Reliance Theatre Supply Company, Limited (Birmingham).—The sole director of this company was prosecuted in December 1913 for perjury at his private examination and for misappropriation of the company's funds and falsification of its books. He pleaded guilty to the perjury, and was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment in the second division. No evidence was offered as to the other matters.

Annex No. XVIII.—Report by the Solicitor to the Board of Trade.

The legal proceedings conducted by me on behalf of the Board of Trade and official receivers during the year 1913 may be classified as follows :—

- (1) Proceedings relating to companies not in liquidation for defaults in rendering returns, &c., under the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, and the Companies Act, 1913.
- (2) Proceedings against liquidators and receivers.
- (3) Miscellaneous proceedings in reference to companies in process of winding-up.

(1) Proceedings relating to Companies not in Liquidation for Defaults in rendering Returns, &c. under the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, and the Companies Act, 1913.

During the year ending 31st December 1913, I had referred to me 1,448 companies for action in respect of default in the year 1912—and in some of the cases for the years 1911 and 1910 as well—in rendering the various returns and notices required by the Companies Act, or otherwise for intruding the provisions of the Act, but in reference to six companies only was it necessary to institute proceedings for penalties. As regards these companies 25 informations were laid and summonses issued.

The following convictions were obtained :—

- (i) Fourteen for offences against section 26 of the Companies (Consolidation) Act, 1908, for failure to render returns for the years 1911 and/or 1912, i.e., copy list of members with summary as to capital and shares, &c.
- (ii) Eight for offences against section 64 of the Act, i.e., failure to hold the ordinary general meeting during the calendar years 1911 and 1913.
- (iii) Three for offences against section 274 of the Act, i.e., failure, in respect of a company incorporated outside the United Kingdom, and having a place of business within the United Kingdom, to render annual statements of affairs for the years 1910, 1911, and 1912.

(2) Proceedings against Liquidators and Receivers.

The cases falling within this classification were those in which persons who had accepted the appointment of (a) liquidator of companies in process of winding-up or (b) receiver on behalf of the debenture holders in a company had neglected to fulfil their statutory duties. In the former case they had omitted to furnish the requisite statements of the proceedings in and position of the liquidation of the company in respect of which they were acting, and in the latter they had not supplied abstracts of their receipts and payments, as they are required by statute to do. As regards liquidator cases the total number referred to me was 254, and in most instances the persons in default were induced to comply with their obligations without the necessity of proceedings. In 42 cases, however, it was found necessary to issue a summons. Of these summonses the number actually heard by the Court was 17, in all of which cases convictions were obtained, the remainder not being proceeded with, in most instances because the police were not able to trace the particular defendant.

As regards receiver cases the total number referred to me was 330, but in only three of them was a summons found necessary. In one case the summons could not be served by the police, and in the remaining two cases convictions were obtained.

(3) Miscellaneous Proceedings in reference to Companies in process of Winding-up.

(1) The most important of the general cases referred to me was one in which a firm of solicitors raised a question as to the taxing jurisdiction of the Registrar of the High Court of Justice, Companies (Winding-up).

The matter arose in connection with a company which had employed the solicitors to conduct its legal business during a certain period for an agreed fee, which had been paid to them. Before the expiration of that period a compulsory winding-up order was made against the company, and the official receiver as liquidator of the company claimed that the solicitors were liable to account to him for the money paid to them, and that their costs should be taxed by the Registrar exercising winding-up jurisdiction.

A summons was taken out by the official receiver as liquidator asking for delivery of the bill of costs and taxation thereof. The solicitors raised no objection to an order for delivery of the bill of costs and they were duly delivered. The summons was subsequently restored at the instance of the official receiver who asked for an order for taxation thereof and payment of the balance due from the solicitors, but this application was opposed on the ground that there was no jurisdiction in the Court to order the costs to be taxed in the winding-up and that costs incurred prior to the commencement of the liquidation were only taxable under the Solicitors Act, 1843. The summons was heard by Mr. Justice Astbury, who decided in favour of the contention of the official receiver, following the decision in re Foss, Bilbrough & Co., [1912] 2 Ch. 161.

The solicitors appealed unsuccessfully to the Court of Appeal, but as their decision was given during the year 1914 I propose to make further allusion to the matter in my next Report.

(2) It was considered necessary for the official receiver to intervene on a petition presented by a creditor for the winding-up of a company.

The company in question was one of a group all of which were largely under the control of one director, and it was alleged that a proper investigation would show that he was heavily indebted to the company. Moreover, in the liquidation of two of the companies comprised in the group orders had been made by the Court for the public examination of this director upon reports by the official receiver charging him with fraud in the promotion or formation of the companies or in the conduct of the business thereof, and for these reasons the Board of Trade instructed me to appear for the official receiver (who, as provisional liquidator of one of the companies concerned, stood in the position of a creditor) in order to support and, if necessary, to adopt the petition of that creditor by whom the liquidation proceedings against the company were instituted.

Mr. Justice Neville made the usual compulsory winding-up order.

(3) The only other case which need be referred to was an application by a creditor for a stay of proceedings under a winding-up order. The applicant was a creditor of the company and the holder of a large number of shares, and he had made arrangements for the payment of the sum due to the creditors. The official receiver was made a respondent to the application but as he was satisfied that there were no matters in connection with the promotion or formation of the company or the conduct of its business as to which further inquiry was necessary, he offered no opposition and the Court accordingly made an order staying the proceedings.

August 1914.

R. ELLIS CUNLIFFE,
Solicitor to the Board of Trade.
